The Orissa Co-operative Societies Act, 1962(Orissa Act 2 of 1963)Statement of Objects and Reasons.

- The provisions of the present Orissa Co-operative Societies Act, 1951 are not adequate to meet the present days requirement and they are not suited for the repaid development of Co-operatives in the State which is an essential need for the success of various development programmes, particularly those which are meant to help the weaker sections of the community. The question of revising the existing Act thoroughly has been under consideration of the State Government for sometime past. A model Co-operative Societies Bill has been prepared by a Committee specially constituted by the Government of India tor this purpose. Accordingly, after taking this model Bill into consideration, and in the light of the circumstances prevailing in the State, the present Bill has been drafted to make the law simple, comprehensive and easily understandable and to specially provide for development of Co-operatives in certain directions; such as co-operative farms and land mortgage banks, for which adequate provisions do not exist under the present Act. This Bill seeks to achieve the above purpose.Statements of Objects and Reasons - Act 23 of 1994. - As a measure of the current State Policy for adequate and effective empowerment of women in all walks of life, especially in the management of institutions at the gross-root levels of the Society, it is considered expedient to provide for reservation of at least one-third of total number of elected seats in the Committees of all Primary Societies, in favour of women, instead of the existing provision for reservation of just one seat for women.It is also necessary to provide for consequential matters like reservation of one-third of the total number of individuals required for registration of a Primary Society, for women, co-option of women members of the Society concerned as members of the Committee in the event of seats reserved for women remaining unfilled in any election validation of the constitution and functioning of Committee with seats reserved for women remaining unfilled even after such co-option, saving of Committees already constituted as well as the Societies already registered under the Old provisions, subject to certain conditions, continuance of existing reservation in favour of Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes, enhancement of the existing strength of the Committee members of Primary Societies and also creation of an office of Vice-President in every Primary Society so as to have that office reserved in favour of women in the event of the President elect of the Society not being a woman etc.As an integral part of the Family Welfare strategy adopted by the State Government for more effectively handling the problem of population explosion, it is necessary to provide for disqualification of persons having more than 2 children from holding any office under a Society, subject to a saving condition that the said criteria shall not apply to a person having more than 2 children as on 1.1.1995, or within a period of one year from that date, unless he or she, as the case may be, begets an additional child after expiry of the said period of one year. After diversification of the lending business of the Primary N[Co-operative Agricultural and Rural Development Bank], and the Apex N[Co-operative Agricultural and Rural Development Bank], in the State into non-farm and non-agricultural sector, the said Banks are required to lend for not only land development purposes, but also other non-agricultural and non-farm sector activities. Hence it is intended to rename the said Banks as Primary Co-operative and Rural Development Banks, and Orissa State Co-operative Agricultural and Rural Development Bank respectively, as has been done in many States. It is also necessary that intimations of reasons of absences in the ordinary meetings and special meetings of the General Body of a Society by its members are considered by the General Body or the representatives smaller General Body, as the case may be, of the said Society and not by the Committee thereof, as has been laid down in the existing provisions. Similarly, it is necessary that the Auditor-General of Co-operative Societies, to whom all powers of Audit and Surcharge etc. have been transferred under the amendments of 1991, is empowered to have access to the records and property of the Society and exercises all ancillary powers, and not the Registrar any longer, as provided under Sub-Section (4) of Section 62 of the Act. This Bill seeks to achieve inter alia, the above objectives. Act 7 of 1996. - The Bill presented for replacement of the Orissa Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Ordinance, 1996 provides, inter alia, for immediate representation of the weaker sections in the Committees of management of all Central and Apex Societies in the State, dissolution of the exiting Committees of such Societies with effect from the date of promulgation of the Ordinance, vesting of the management of the said Societies in the Registrar, upon such dissolution, entrustment of such management of interim Committees to be nominated by the Registrar giving representation therein to the target group of vulnerable sections, voluntary amendments of bye-laws and reconstitution of Committees of the Societies concerned within the specified period of six months, and compulsory amendment of bye-laws and constitution of such committees by the Registrar in the event of the Society failing to so amend and constitute, within the specified period, deemed membership of the members of Primary Societies in the Central and Apex Societies to which the Primary Societies are affiliated, revised definition of Central and Apex Societies, enabling such Societies to also have individuals as their members, reintroduction of the provision regarding suspension of erring Committees of Societies, pending finalisation of supersession proceedings initiated against them, and-also reintroduction of a system of indirect election of Presidents of Committees of management in order to have more cohesively functional Committees. The Bills seeks to achieve the above objectives. Act 6 of 1998. - The Orissa Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Bill, 1998 seeks to replace the Orissa Co-operative Societies (Amendment) Ordinance, 1998. In order to give reasonable time, so as to enable the Registrar to cause amendment of the By e-Laws of the Central and Apex Co-operative Societies and to reconstitute the Committees of such Societies with adequate representation of weaker sections belongings to Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes, other Backward Classes and women by holding election, which could not be completed within the statutory period due to unexpected interruption caused by the General Election to the Lok Sabha, as stated in the Statement explaining the circumstances which had necessitated immediate legislation, it is considered necessary and expedient to amend Section 28 (2)(g)(iv) of the Orissa Co-operative Societies Act, 1962, by enhancing the period specified therein from nineteen months to twenty-five months. The Bill intends to achieve the above objectives. (Assented to by the President on the 3rd February, 1963) Published vide Orissa Gazette Extraordinary No. 99-D/15.2.1963, Notification No. 968 Legislative dated 13.2.1963.
