Instructions on Schedule II For Form 'A' (1) The Form 'A' is required to be filled in for all work-stoppages involving 10 or more workers. The definitions of industrial disputes, work-stoppage, strike and lockout are given in the rules under the Act. If the owners of the establishments are in doubt whether any particular work-stoppage would be falling under the definition of work-stoppage, Forms 'A', 'B1 and 'C' specified in Schedule II should be filled in for the work-stoppage, be left to the judgment of the State Statistics Authority. (2) (i) The particulars of Industry should be stated briefly as defined in the rules. (ii) For general guidance the broad industrial classification is given in "Annexure I" which may be used for indicating the Industry groups correctly. (iii) The full description of the industry, as given at the time of registration of the Factory, or as furnished official records for the current year in other cases, should be given. For instance, if a factory producing chemicals and printing textiles is registered under "Chemicals" and if only the Textiles Printing Section of such a factory is involved in the dispute, the original groups under which the factory is registered, namely "Chemicals" should be given and not the "Textile Printing" Industry group which is also involved. (3) The name of the Central Organisation i.e. Employees' Federation of India, All-India Organisation of Industrial Employers and All India Employer's Organisation to which the establishment is affiliated should be given. (4) The Sector, "Private" or "Public" should be given in Form 'A' of Schedule II. "Establishment in Public Sector" means an establishment owned, controlled or managed by- (i) the Government or department of the Government; (ii) a Government company as defined in Section 617 of the Companies Act, 1956; (iii) a Corporation including Co-operative Society established by or under a Central or State Act, which is owned, controlled or managed by the Government; (iv) a local authority; "Establishment in Private Sector" means an establishment which is not an establishment in Public Sector. (5) Strike/Lock-out. The nature of the work-stoppages at the time of the occurrence should be given. (6) (i) In case there be more than one shift, number of workers should include all the workers on rolls for all the shifts. (ii) The number of workers on roll (normally employed) should pertain to the whole unit but not other units which may be registered separately (factories) or managed separately (other concerns) although the units may be falling under the same ownership.

For instance, if there are two separate registered factories in the same compound under one ownership and there is a work-stoppage in one, the number of employees in the factory involved need only be given. Part-time workers on roll, if any, should be notionally converted into full-time workers by reducing their number in the ratio of part-time works to total daily working hours in the establishment.(7)(i)Number of workers involved is the number of vacancies caused by the work-stoppage in the establishment, affected irrespective of their having been filled up by substitute workers engaged, if any, workers for all the affected shifts should be included. Part-time workers, if any, should be notionally converted into full-time workers by reducing their number in the ratio of part-time works to total daily working hours in the establishment.(ii)Workers who are immediately involved in the work-stoppage and stop work owing to their common will or to the will of their employer are to be treated as directly involved. Under "Total" workers involved, the total of the number of such workers (involved directly) and the number of other workers who are forced to be idle, but are not themselves parties to the work-stoppage, i.e., those indirectly involved in the work-stoppage should be given.(iii)Among the "Total" number of workers involved in a work-stoppage in a registered factory, number of workers covered by the Factories Act, 1948, who are involved in the work-stoppage should be given separately.Section 2(e) of the Factories Act, 1948 defines "worker" as a person employed, directly or through any agency whether for wages or not, in any manufacturing process or in cleaning any part of the machinery or premises used for a manufacturing process, or in any other kind of work incidental to, or connected, with the manufacturing process, or the subject of the "manufacturing process".(8)The matter in dispute at the commencement of the work-stoppage should be described precisely and briefly adopting the following broad headings:-(i)Related to Collective Bargaining:-(a)New Bargain;(b)Interpretation of the terms of an existing agreement, each of these being sub-classified into;(ii)Refusal to conclude collective agreement;(iii)Conditions of industrial employment, e.g., wages and allowances, bonus, hours of work, holidays, personnel (i.e., discharges, dismissals, promotions, transfer or charge sheeting or other similar matters);(iv)Other matters relating to employment, e.g., share of workers in management apportionment of work between different classes of workers etc; and(v)Not related to Collective Bargaining:-(a)Sympathetic Strikes/Lock-outs;(b)Political Strikes/Lock-outs;(c)Others.(9)Special classification of the event of occurrence of the dispute should be given indicating whether the stoppage occurred prior to-(a)attempting settlement by mutual negotiations;(b)seeking conciliation;(c)exploring the possibility of settlement of the dispute by arbitration;(d)referring the matter to State/Central Implementation Machinery;(e)requesting the appropriate Government to refer the dispute to adjudication;(f)refusal by Government to refer the dispute for adjudication;(g)any other known event; and(h)any other contingency which could have helped in the settlement.(10)Special classification of the reasons leading to the dispute should be given precisely with the help of the available information following the standard nomenclature as given below:-(i)Non-implementation of :-(a)Labour enactments;(b)Labour awards;(c)Labour agreements, etc., and(d)Tripartite decision.(ii)Any other (with full details).(11)The nature of the breach of the Code of Discipline should given following the standard nomenclature given below:-(i)Go-slow;(ii)Threat of violence;(iii)Violence;(iv)Victimisation;(v)Sabotage;(vi)Intimidation;(vii)Coercion;(viii)Non-peaceful demonstration;(ix)Unfair Labour practices not otherwise specified;(x)Strikes/Lock-outs without notice;(xi)Non-recognition of Union;(xii)Increase in work-load;(xiii)Delay in the redress of grievances;(xiv)Non-setting up of grievance procedure, etc.;(xv)Any other breach (with details);(xvi)Non-acceptance of the Code by the parties and so the question is not applicable.For Form 'B'(12)Form 'B' is required to be filled in, for each week of the work of the work-stoppage and only once for work-stoppage of shorter duration. The instructions (1), (2) and (7) for Form A' should be borne in mind while filling in this Form.(13)Against the date, all scheduled holidays and the days on which the Factory/Establishments would have remained closed, even if the work-stoppage had not occurred, should be given.(14)If any substitutes on such rolls, or freshly recruited workers are engaged in place of the worker who are involved in the work-stoppage, their total number should be given.(15)If the nature of the work-stoppage, strike/lockout, changes during the week, it should be given in the Form 'B'. The other changes in the matter in dispute, e.g., in the charter of demands by the employees, etc., may also be given.For Form 'C'(16)Form 'C' is to be filled in, on the termination of the work-stoppage. Before filling in this Form, it should be seen that Form 'A' and Form 'B' have been duly filled in. The instructions (1), (2) and (7) for Form 'A' should be borne in mind while filling in this Form.(17)A work-stoppage may be considered as "terminated" when the establishment has resumed work, having filled all or a sufficient number of vacancies caused by the work-stoppage either by the re-employment of the workers involved in the dispute or by engaging new workers. If the establishment does not resume work at all, the dispute may be taken as terminated when the negotiation between owners and workers break-down finally or the establishment is closed down, whichever may be earlier.(18)Manner of termination should as far as possible be given according to the standard nomenclature given below:(i)Termination without settlement-(a)Mainly unconditional resumption of work/withdrawal of lock-out;(b)Mainly replacement of workers; and(c)Closing down of establishment.(ii)Termination pending settlement (reference to court of enquiry, arbitration adjudications, promise by the employer to consider the demands, etc.).(iii)Termination after settlement has been arrived through:-(a)Direct negotiation;(b)Negotiation through works of Joint Committees;(c)Mediation by a third party;(d)Intervention by Implementation Machinery;(e)Mediation by some other third party;(f)Arbitration by mutual agreement;(g)Conciliation by Government (other than Implementation Machinery);(h)Conciliation by Board of Conciliation; and(i)Adjudication by Industrial Tribunal, Industrial Court or Labour Court.(iv)Any other manner of termination (give full details).Note. - Implementation Machinery means the machinery entrusted with task of implementation of the Code of Discipline both at the Centre and the States/Union Territories.(19)If the matter in dispute of the termination is different from the matter in dispute at the commencement it should be given in Form 'C' following the standard broad headings given in instruction (6) for Form 'A' given earlier.(20)The result of the dispute should be classified from the worker's point of view and as far as possible be given according to the standard nomenclature given below:-(a)disputes where the worker's demands have been entirely accepted;(b)disputes where the worker's major demands have been accepted;(c)disputes where the worker's major demands have not been accepted;(d)disputes where the worker's demands have been rejected;(e)disputes where the employer's demands have been entirely accepted;(f)disputes where the employer's demands have been partially accepted;(g)disputes where the employer's demands have been rejected;(h)disputes with indeterminate result; and(i)not known.(21)Approximate figures for the change in the daily wage-bill due to the settlement of the disputes will suffice. Generally it will be possible to estimate the increase or decrease of the wage-bill per working day from the past wages bill of the class of workers affected by the terms of settlement on a proportionate basis.(22)(i)Loss in wages to workers may be estimated by multiplying the "number of mandays lost" by the average wages per day per worker. The "number of mandays lost" can be obtained by adding the number of workers involved (whether directly or indirectly in each manshift worked) less substitutes engaged, as supplied from time to time under item 5 of Form 'B'. The average wages per day per worker may be obtained by dividing the actual wage bill by the corresponding number of mandays worked and paid for, preferably taken over the three wage periods.(ii)The total value and the break-down by each calendar months concerned, should be given if the dispute was continued for a number of calendar months e.g., if a dispute starts, say on the 25th February separate figures for January and February, should be given.(iii)The wages lost should be the normal wages lost and should be exclusive of over-time wages for such work as might be performed during the period subsequent to the work-stoppage to make up the loss in production of account of the dispute.(23)"Loss in production" may be estimated from the average figures of three wage periods. This should be calculated by working out the value of normal approximate daily net output per manday and multiplying the same by the number of mandays lost on account of the work-stoppage. This should also be given separately for each of the calendar months during which the dispute was continued and their total as explained in 22(ii) above.
