Gudalur Janmam Estates (Abolition and Conversion Into Ryotwari) Act, 1969(Tamil Nadu Act 24 of 1969)Statement of Objects and Reasons - Gudalur Janmam Estates (Abolition and Conversion into Ryotivari) Act, 1969 (Tamil Nadu Act 24 of 1969). - In pursuance of the policy of abolition of all intermediaries between the Government and the actual cultivators, the zamindari, under-tenure and inam estates, and all minor inams, leaseholds, etc. have been abolished under the various legislative measures and all these lands have been converted into ryotwari lands by the grant of patta to the persons entitled thereto. However, the special system of land holding known as the janmi system is still in vogue in the Gudalur taluk to the Nilgiris district. According to the definition of "estate" in Article 31-A(2)(a) of the Constitution, any janmam right in the States of Tamil Nadu and Kerala also constitutes an estate. The question of abolishing this special tenure in Gudalur taluk and introducing ryotwari settlement has been engaging the attention of the Government for some time now. The Revenue Divisional Officer, Gudalur, was directed to make an enquiry in the matter and to submit a report. After considering the report in consultation with the Board of Revenue, the Government have decided to abolish the system of janman tenure in the Gudalur taluk on payment of compensation to the janmis at the rate of twenty times the average net annual income derived by them from the janman estate. The janmi and the verumpattamdar will be entitled to ryotwari patta for any land on proof of personal cultivation for three agricultural years. If no janmi or verumpattamdar is entitled to patta any other person other than the janmi getting patta will be liable to pay to the Government contribution at the rate of twenty times the difference between the fair rent and the land revenue.2. The Bill seeks to achieve the above object.Published in Part IV-Section 3, page 37 of the Fort. St. George Gazette Extraordinary, dated the 28th January 1969.Received the assent of the President on the 6th December 1969 and first published in the Fort.
