Tamil Nadu Court of Wards Act, 1902 Tamil Nadu Act 1 of 1902 Statement of Objects and Reasons - Tamil Nadu Courts of Wards Act, 1902 (Tamil Nadu Act 1902). - The law relating to the Court of Wards in the Madras Presidency had in course of time been found in many particulars to be defective or inconvenient. The principal enactment on the subject, Regulation V of 1804, was passed more than a century ago. The subsequent enactments had been piecemeal additions to the Regulation. The last Amending Act (IV of 1899) which was passed in advance of the general revision and consolidation of the law provided a more effectual procedure than that which previously existed for ascertaining the pecuniary claims against a wards estate, for enquiry into their validity, and for settling them. The Act was also designed to afford relief to encumbered proprietors who although sui juris might, under its special provisions, apply for, and, with sanction of the Government, obtain for their estates the benefit of the superintendence of the Court of Wards. The object of the Act is to consolidate and amend the whole law relating to the Court of Wards. The provisions added to the Regulation the recently passed Amending Act IV of 1899 had been retained intact. The other provisions of the Regulation had been freely remodelled with reference to corresponding legislation which had been then freely carried out in other provinces. Published in Part IV (page 15) of the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 9th August 1901. Received the assent of the Governor on the 22nd February 1902, and that of the Viceroy and Governor-General on the 11th May 1902 and the assent of the Governor-General assent was first published in the Fort St. George Gazette of the 27th May 1902. An Act to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Court of Wards in the [State of Tamil Nadu] [This expression was substituted for the expression 'State of Madras' by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws Order, 1969, as amended by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws (Second Amendment) Order, 1969, which came into force on the 14th January 1969.]. Preamble. - Whereas it is expedient to consolidate and amend the law relating to the Court of Wards in the [State of Tamil Nadu] [This expression was substituted for the expression 'State of Madras' by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws Order, 1969, as amended by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws (Second Amendment) Order, 1969, which came into force on the 14th January 1969.]; It is hereby enacted as follows:-
