(1)The notice required to be displayed in shops and commercial establishments under sub-section (3) of section 5 shall be in Form G.(2)A copy of the notice and all changes in such notice shall be sent immediately (a)where the shop or establishment concerned is situated in any area within Calcutta, to the Chief Inspector, and(b)Where it is situated in any other area, to the Inspector having jurisdiction over such other area.

12. Notice of weekly holidays.

(1)A shop-keeper or an employer shall display in his shop or establishment, as the case may be, a notice in Form H, specifying the days of week on which the persons employed in such shop or establishment shall be allowed full holiday and half holiday, and shall preserve it for one year for inspection.(2)The notice under sub-rule (1) shall be so displayed before cessation of work by the employees affected thereby on the Saturday immediately preceding the first week in which the notice is to have effect.(3)A copy of the notice referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be sent immediately (a)where the shop or establishment concerned is situated in any area within Calcutta, to the Chief Inspector, and(b)where it is situated in any other area, to the Inspector having jurisdiction over such other area.

13. Register of hours of work and rest intervals.

(1)A shop-keeper or an employer shall maintain a register either in Form I or in Form 1(1) as the shop-keeper or employer may choose showing the daily hours of actual work and hours of rest against the name of each employee and also the hours of opening and closing of such shop or establishment, as the case may be.(2)The entries in such register shall be made in course of the day to which it relates.

14. Application for privilege leave.

- Any person employed in a shop or an establishment desiring to avail of any privilege leave which is due to his credit under the Act, shall make an application in writing for the purpose to the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, at least ten days prior to the date of intended commencement of such leave and the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall issue orders on the application within a week of its submission :Provided that the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, may if satisfied that the leave is required for urgent matters, waive the period of ten days' notice ordinarily required and pass orders accordingly.

15. Casual leave.

- Ordinarily, casual leave of absence shall not be admissible for more than 3 days at a time, except in cases of sickness, and previous permission in writing of the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall be obtained before such leave is availed of:Provided that when it is not possible to obtain such previous permission, the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall, as soon as may be practicable, be informed in writing of the absence from duty and the probable duration of such absence with reasons therefor.

16. Sick leave.

- Grant or extension of sick leave, if due, shall not be refused when prayed for in writing by or on behalf of a person employed on production of a certificate from a registered medical practitioner :Provided that the shop-keeper or the employer concerned may if he so thinks fit and undertakes to defray the cost involved, require the person employed to be examined by another registered medical practitioner nominated by him and if the person employed refuses to submit such examination or is certified on such examination to be fit for duty, the shop-keeper or the employer concerned may refuse the leave or extension thereof, as the case maybe.

17. Leave pass.

(1) If any leave, other than casual leave, asked for is granted, a leave pass, showing the nature and period of leave granted shall be issued to the applicant. (2) Every person employed praying for leave referred to in sub-rule (1) shall intimate to the shop-keeper or the employer concerned his address, during the period of leave and if there is any change of the address, the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall be informed within three days of such change.

18. Refusal of leave.

(1) Leave due and prayed for shall not ordinarily be refused and no part of the privilege leave earned by a person employed in a shop or an establishment shall be allowed to lapse by the refusal of the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, to grant such leave :Provided that the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, may regulate the grant of privilege leave, according to convenience of work of the shop or the establishment concerned, so, however that such leave shall be granted (a)if the employee concerned intends to avail of the leave and does not want to accumulate it, within the first 12 months, or(b)in any other cases, within the first 18 months following the 12 months during which leave has been earned.(2)If the whole or any part of the leave prayed for is refused or postponed, the fact of such refusal or postponement and the reasons thereof shall be recorded in a register to be maintained by the shop-keeper or employer in Form and if the employee concerned so desires, a certified copy of such entry in the register shall be supplied to him by the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be.

19. Extension of leave.

- If a person employed, after proceeding on leave, desires an extension thereof, he shall apply in writing to the shop-keeper or the employer concerned and the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall send a written reply either granting or refusing the extension of leave prayed for to the applicant at the address given by him under rule 17 before proceeding on leave.

20. Unauthorised absence.

(1)If a person employed remains absent without leave or beyond the period of leave originally granted or subsequently extended, shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall, before taking any disciplinary action against the absentee, issue a notice requiring him to explain in writing the reasons of his absence within 15 days of the date of issue of the notice.(2)(i)If on receipt of the notice referred to in sub-rule (1), the absentee explains the reasons of his absence to the shop-keeper, or employer, as the case may be, the latter may, if the explanation is found satisfactory, regularise the period of unauthorised absence by grant of such leave as may be due to the person employed, and treat the remaining period of absence, if any, as absence without wages.(ii)If the explanation given by the person employed is considered not satisfactory by the shop-keeper or employer, as the case may be, latter may either treat the period of unauthorised absence of the person employed as absence without wages even though leave with wages may be due to him, or terminate his lien on his appointment, depending on the gravity of the case.(iii)If the person employed does not submit any explanation to the shopkeeper or employer, as the case may be, within the time limit given in the notice referred to in sub-rule (1), the latter may terminate the lien of the person employed on his appointment forthwith.(3)The notice referred to in sub-rule (1) shall be served by registered post to the address given under rule 17, or in its absence, to the address last given by the person employed to the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be.

21. Leave register.

- Every shop-keeper and employer shall maintain a leave register in Form J and every case of application for leave, whether granted or refused, shall be entered in the corresponding part of the register immediately after a decision is taken on the application.

Chapter IV

Maternity Leave

22. Prohibition of employment of pregnant woman during certain periods.

(1) No shop-keeper or employer shall knowingly employ any woman and no woman employed in a shop or establishment shall work there, during the six weeks immediately following the day on which she is delivered of a child or has a miscarriage. (2) Without prejudice to the provisions of rule 24, no pregnant woman shall be required by the shop-keeper or employer concerned to do during the periods specified in sub-rule (3) any work which is of an arduous nature or which involves long hours of standing, or which in any way is likely to interfere with the pregnancy or the normal development of the foetus or is likely to cause miscarriage or otherwise to adversely affect her health. (3) The period referred to in sub-rule (2) shall be (a) the period of one month immediately preceding the period of six weeks, before the date of her expected delivery ; (b) any period during the said period of six weeks for which the pregnant woman does not avail of leave of absence under rule 24.

23. Maternity benefit.

(1) Subject to the provisions of these rules, every woman shall be entitled to, and the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, employing her shall be liable for the payment of a sum of money for the benefit of such woman calculated at the rate of her average daily wages, for the period of her actual absence from work during the six weeks immediately preceding the day on which she is delivered of a child including that day and also for a period of six weeks immediately following that day. Explanation. For the purpose of this sub-rule, average daily wages of any woman means the average of the woman's wages payable to her for the days on which she has worked during the period of three calendar months immediately preceding the date from which she absents herself on account of maternity, or one rupee a day, whichever is higher. (2) No woman shall be entitled to maternity benefit unless she has actually worked in the shop or the establishment concerned for a period of not less than one hundred and sixty days in the twelve months immediately preceding the date of her expected delivery. Explanation. For the purpose of calculating under this sub-rule the days on which a woman has actually worked in the shop or establishment concerned, the days for which she has been laid off within the meaning of clause (kkk) of section 2 of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), during the period of 12 months immediately preceding the date of her expected delivery shall be taken into account. (3) The maximum period for which any woman shall be entitled to maternity benefit shall be twelve weeks, that is to say, six weeks up to and including the day on which she is delivered of a child and six weeks immediately following that day : Provided that where a woman dies during this period, the maternity benefit, shall be payable only for the days up to and including the day of her death : Provided further that where a woman, having been delivered of a child dies during delivery or during the period of six weeks immediately following the date of delivery, leaving behind in either case the child, the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall be liable for maternity benefit for the entire period of six weeks immediately following the day of delivery but if the child also dies during the said period, for the days up to and including the day of the death of the child.

24. Notice of claim for maternity benefit and payment thereof.

(1) Any woman employed in a shop or an establishment and entitled to maternity benefit under the provisions of these rules may give notice to the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, in Form K stating that her maternity benefit may be paid to her or to such person as she may nominate in the notice and that she will not work or has not worked in any shop or establishment during the period for which she will receive maternity benefit. (2) Such notice shall state the date from which the woman concerned will be or, as the case may be, has been absent from work, not being a date earlier than six weeks from the date on which she expects to be or, as the case may be, has been delivered of a child. (3) On receipt of the notice, the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, shall allow such woman leave of absence from the shop or the establishment until the expiry of six weeks after the day of her delivery : Provided that the shop-keeper or employer may, if he so thinks fit and undertakes to defray the cost, require the woman, to be examined by a qualified medical practitioner or mid-wife, and if the woman refuses to submit to such examination or is certified by the medical practitioner or midwife, as the case may be, on such examination that she is not pregnant or is not likely to be or, as the case may be, has not been delivered of a child as stated in the notice, he may refuse the leave or modify the period thereof : Provided further that such examination shall, if the woman so desires, be carried out by a female. (4) The amount of maternity benefit for the period preceding the date of her expected delivery shall be paid in advance by the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, to the woman or her nominee and the amount due for the subsequent period shall be paid by the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, to the woman or her nominee on production of a certificate in Form L from a qualified medical practitioner or midwife specifying the date on which the woman has delivered of a child. (5) The failure to give notice under this rule shall not disentitle a woman to maternity benefit if she is otherwise entitled to such benefit and in any such case an Inspector appointed under section 19 may, after necessary enquiries made either of his own motion or on an application made to him by the woman, direct the payment of such benefit.

25. Payment of maternity benefit in case of death of woman.

- If a woman entitled to maternity benefit dies before receiving such benefit or where the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, is liable for maternity benefit under the second proviso to sub-rule (3) of rule 23, the employer shall pay such, benefit to the person nominated by the woman in the notice given under rule 24 and in case there is no such nominee, to her legal representative.

26. Leave for miscarriage.

- In case of miscarriage, a woman shall, on production of a certificate from a qualified medical practitioner or midwife be entitled to leave with wages; at the rate of maternity benefit, for a period of six weeks immediately following the date of her miscarriage.

27. Leave of absence during pregnancy.

- The absence of a woman during the period she is entitled to maternity benefit under these rules or due to illness certified by a registered medical practitioner as arise out of pregnancy or confinement shall be treated as authorised absence of leave.

28. Dismissal during absence for pregnancy.

(1) When a woman absents herself from work in accordance with the provisions of these rules, it shall be unlawful for the shop-keeper or the employer, as the case may be, employing her to discharge or dismiss her during or on account of such absence or to give her such notice of discharge or dismissal as will expire during such absence, or to vary any of the conditions of her service to her disadvantage. (2)(a) Discharge or dismissal of a woman at any time during her pregnancy, except by order in writing communicated to her and on grounds of gross misconduct, shall not have the effect of depriving her of any maternity benefit if, but for such discharge or dismissal, she would have been entitled to such benefit. (b) Any woman deprived of maternity benefit may, within sixty days from the date on which the order of such deprivation is communicated to her, appeal to the officer or authority appointed under subsection (2) of section 14 within whose jurisdiction the shop or the establishment, as the case may be, is situated, and the decision of such officer or authority on such appeal, as to whether the woman should or should not be deprived of maternity benefit, shall be final. (c) Nothing contained in this sub-rule shall affect the provisions of sub-rule (1).

29. Recovery of maternity benefit.

- In any case where maternity benefit is withheld by a shop-keeper or an employer the provisions of section 14 and the corresponding provisions in these rules relating to recovery of wages shall mutatis mutandis apply to the recovery of such maternity benefit.
