Explanation. - When the usual place of residence of a member is outside the State of Rajasthan any other place within the State nearest to the usual place of residence that may be named by the member shall, for the purposes of these rules, be deemed to be his usual place of residence. (2) Except as otherwise provided in rules 6 and 7, a member may draw travelling allowance, only for the journey undertaken by him when first proceeding from his usual place of residence to attend a session or a meeting of a committee or to visit a place under the orders of the Speaker for the purpose of attending to any other business connected with his duties as a member and for his return journey thereto before or after the close of such session or meeting of the committee or such business. (3) Notwithstanding that a member has not taken his seat in the House of the Assembly to which he is elected he shall subject to the provisions contained in the first proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 8 of the Act, be entitled to receive travelling allowance for the journey performed by him for the purpose of taking his seat in the House. (4) Notwithstanding anything contained in this rule, if a meeting of a Committee is called when the Assembly is in session, a member shall not be entitled to draw travelling allowance for a journey undertaken by him for the purpose of attending such meeting if he has already drawn travelling allowance for the journey performed by him for attending the session of the Assembly. (5) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sub-rules a member shall not be entitled to travelling allowance for a journey undertaken to attend the meeting. -(a) if his usual place of residence is within a radius of five miles of Jaipur or other place fixed by Government for such meeting, or (b) unless, in the case of meeting of the Committee, he attends such meeting for at least half the period of its duration on one day. (6) Notwithstanding anything contained in the foregoing sub-rules a member shall not be entitled to any travelling allowance for a journey undertaken to visit a place for the purpose of attending under the orders of the Speaker to any other business connected with his duties as a member, if his usual place of residence is within a radius of five miles of such place.

5. Daily allowance for attending session of Assembly.

(1) A member attending a session of the Assembly may draw daily allowance the rate specified in the Act for each day of the duration of that session and a period not exceeding two days immediately preceding the commencement of the session and not exceeding one day immediately succeeding the end of the session: Provided that no claim for daily allowance shall be made for any such day unless the member has resided in that place where the session is held for at least eight hours on that day; unless he produces a medical certificate issued by the authorised medical attendant: [Provided further that a member, excepting when he is unable to attend the session of the Assembly owing to his illness, shall not be entitled to draw daily allowance for such day on which the meeting of the Assembly was held but which he did not attend: Provided also that where a member claims daily allowance for any day on which he did not attend the meeting of the Assembly on the ground that he was unable to attend the same owing to his illness, he shall be entitled to draw such allowance only if he makes an application to that effect addressed to the Secretary of the Assembly certifying under his signatures that he could not attend the meeting of the Assembly on that day owing to his illness and where he did not attend the meeting of the Assembly on the said ground for more than three days and claims daily allowance for these days, he shall be entitled to draw such allowance only if he has produced a medical certificate about his illness issued by an Authorised Medical Attendant. Explanation. - For the purposes of third proviso to this sub-rule and sub-rule (4) of rule

13, the expression "Authorised Medial Attendant" shall have the same meaning as is assigned to this expression in clause (i) of rule 3 of the [Rajasthan Civil Services (Medical Attendance) Rules, 2013] [Substituted by G.S.R. 100, dated 14-2-1984, Published in Rajasthan Rajpatra (Extraordinary), part IV(ga), dated 14.2.1984, page 407-422] as amended from time to time].(2)A member attending a meeting of a committee shall be entitled to daily allowance for the day or days of such meeting and intervening holidays [and Saturdays] [Inserted by G.S.R. 100, dated 14-2-1984, Published in Rajasthan Rajpatra (Extraordinary), part IV(ga), dated 14.2.1984, page 407-422] if any, as well as for one day immediately preceding the commencement of the meeting and one day immediately succeeding the end of the meeting and the provisos to sub-rule (1) shall apply.(3)A member visiting a place for the purpose of attending under the orders of the Speaker to any other business connected with his duties as a member shall be entitled to daily allowance for the day or days for his stay at that place for the said purposes:Provided that no claim for daily allowance shall be made for any such day unless the member has resided in the place of his visit for at least eight hours for that day.(4)Notwithstanding anything contained in this rule, in the event of an adjournment during a session lasting for seven days or more, if a member leaves the place of meeting, he shall be entitled to travelling allowance in accordance with rule 3 and if he resides at the place of meeting, he shall be entitled to daily allowance for all the days of his residence at the place of meeting, not exceeding six days.

6. Daily allowance during intervals.

(1)Where the interval between the termination of meeting of a Committee and commencement of session or between the termination of a session and the commencement of a meeting of a Committee at the same place does not exceed five days, and the member concerned elects to remain at such place during such interval, he shall be entitled to draw for each day of his residence at such place, daily allowance at the rate specified in the Act:Provided that if the member leaves such place during or before the interval, he shall be entitled to travelling allowance the amount of which will not exceed the total amount of daily allowance which would have been admissible to such member under rule 5 for the day of absence if he had not so remained absent.(2)When the interval between the termination of a meeting of a Committee and commencement of another meeting of the same Committee or of another Committee at the same place, both of which such member is required to attend does not exceed three days and member concerned elects to remain at such place during such interval he shall be entitled to draw for each day of his residence at such place daily allowance at the rates specified in the Act:Provided that if the member leaves such place during or before such interval, he shall be entitled to draw the travelling allowance, the amount of which will not exceed total amount of daily allowance, which would have been admissible to such member under rule 5 for the days of absence if he had not remained absent.(3)When there is an interval of-(i)more than five days between a meeting of the Assembly and a meeting of the committee under sub-rule (1), or(ii)more than three days between a meeting of a Committee or another meeting of the same committee or a meeting of another Committee under sub-rule (2), and if the member leaves his place of meeting, he shall be entitled to claim travelling allowance in accordance with rule 3 and if he resides at the place of meeting he shall be entitled to daily allowance not exceeding the travelling allowance to which he would have been entitled if he had returned during the interval to his usual place of residence and performed other journey to the place where the next meeting is held.(4)Where within a period of five days the session is held at one place and the meeting of a Committee is held at some other place, the travelling allowance admissible to a member attending the session and a meeting of the Committee shall be restricted to the travelling and daily allowance admissible for a direct journey from the place of meeting of a Committee or session to the second place of meeting of a Committee or session or [vice versa].(5)When within a period of five days, the meeting of a Committee held at one place and another meeting of the same Committee or a meeting of another Committee is held at another place, both of which such member is required to attend, the travelling allowance admissible to a member attending the first meeting at one place and the meeting at other place shall be restricted to the travelling and daily allowance admissible for a direct journey from the place of first meeting of the Committee to the second place of meeting and [vice versa].

7. Admissibility of travelling allowance during a session or meeting.

(1)Where a member absents himself for less than [seven] [Substituted by G.S.R. 100, dated 14-2-1984, Published in Rajasthan Rajpatra (Extraordinary), part IV(ga), dated 14.2.1984, page 407-422] days during a session or a meeting of the Committee for visiting any place within the State of Rajasthan, he shall, in cases where the duration of the meeting of the committee is more than ten days be entitled to receive travelling allowance in respect of such journey to such place and for the return journey at the rates specified in the [Schedule] [Substituted by G.S.R. 100, dated 14-2-1984, Published in Rajasthan Rajpatra (Extraordinary), part IV(ga), dated 14.2.1984, page 407-422]:Provided that the facility as aforesaid shall be allowed only once in a month:Provided further that such travelling allowance shall not exceed the total amount of daily allowance which would have been admissible to such member under rule 5 for the days of absence if he had not remained so absent.(2)[Subject to the provisions contained in rule 5, where a member absence himself for a period of seven days or more during the meeting of the Assembly or the meeting of a Committee thereof for visiting any place in Rajasthan, no travelling and daily allowance shall be admissible to him] [Substituted by G.S.R. 100, dated 14-2-1984, Published in Rajasthan Rajpatra (Extraordinary), part IV(ga), dated 14.2.1984, page 407-422],

(1)For the purpose of calculating travelling allowance, a journey between two stations is held to be performed by the shortest of two or more practicable routes or by the cheapest of such routes as may be equally short.(2)The shortest route is that by which the travelling member can most speedily reach his destination by the ordinary mode of travelling.Note. - The ordinary mode of travelling between places connected by rail is that which travellers habitually use, viz., the railway.(3)When a journey is performed by a motor car between places connected by a railway, travelling allowance shall be limited to what would have been admissible had the member travelled by rail.Note. - Cases for travelling allowance at rates admissible for road travel shall be restricted to the distance from the point of commencement of the journey to the nearest railway station.(4)A member who is allowed free transit by rail shall be entitled to draw only one half of the class fare for the journey.(5)A member who avails the facility of free transit by road provided under section 8 A of the Act shall not be entitled to draw the fare for such journey but shall be entitled to claim incidental charges.(6)A member who performs a journey by air may draw, only the travelling allowance admissible to him if the journey were performed by rail or by road.(7)The points in any station from which a journey is held to commence and at which it is held to end, are the chief public office in such station and the place where the business of the meeting may be transacted respectively.(8)Where a member is provided with free boarding and lodging at the expenses of the Government of India or Government of Rajasthan or any other State Government or a Local Fund or authority, he shall be entitled to receive only one fourth of the daily allowance admissible to him under these rules. If only boarding or lodging is allowed free to a member, he shall be entitled to receive three-fourth of the daily allowance admissible to him under these rules.

9. Admissibility of travelling allowance and Daily allowance on postponement or adjournment of session or meeting.

- All cases regarding admissibility of a travelling allowance to a member who arrives at the place where a session or a meeting of a Committee is held, without knowledge of the postponement of the session or the meeting of the Committee, including cases of such members as arrive after the session or meeting of a Committee is adjourned suddenly shall be determined by the Speaker having regard to the circumstances of each case.

10. Deduction of outstanding dues from salary or travelling allowance and daily allowance Bill.

(1)(a)Whenever any Government or semi-Government dues such as, house rent, water charges, electric charges, furniture rent, telephone charges, etc. are reported by the authority concerned to be outstanding against a member, the amount equivalent to such dues shall be deducted from the next salary or travelling and daily allowance bills of such member.(b)When a deduction of any outstanding dues mentioned in clause (a) is required to be made from the salary bill of a member, the authority concerned shall intimate the amount of such dues to the Treasury Officer from whose treasury the member drawn his salary, and on receipt of such intimation, the Treasury Officer concerned shall deduct the amount of the dues from the salary bill or bills of the member concerned.(c)When a deduction of any outstanding dues mentioned in clause (a) is required to be made from the travelling and daily allowances bills of a member, the authority concerned shall intimate the amount of such dues to the Secretary, Rajasthan Legislative Assembly, who shall, on receipt of such intimation, deduct the amount of the dues from the travelling and daily allowance bills of the member concerned.(2)Ordinarily, and non-governmental dues outstanding against a member shall not be recovered from his salaries or allowances, but where such dues are on account of certain services rendered to him in the course of his duties as a member, such as, when he is on tour with a Committee of the Assembly, and the arrangements for such services have been made by or at the instance of private parties at the request of the officers of the Assembly Secretariat and where such member inspite of repeated requests had failed to make payment of such dues, recovery thereof may be effected by the Assembly Secretariat from the salary or travelling or daily allowance bills of such member.

11. Non-admissibility of Travelling allowance & Daily allowance.

- Notwithstanding anything contained in these rules a member shall not draw travelling allowance or daily allowance under these rules if, for the same journey or the same halt or attendance, he has drawn any such allowance from the Government in another capacity.

12. Preparation of Bills.

- [(1)(a) Bill shall be prepared in duplicate on printed forms to be obtained from the Secretary to the Assembly and shall be sent to him.(b)The members who desire to draw payment through bank, shall open bank account with bank transacting cash business of the Government of Rajasthan and intimate the Secretary, Rajasthan Legislative Assembly his account number in the bank. The Secretary, Rajasthan Legislative Assembly while drawing the bill, shall prepare a covering list indicating net amount payable alongwith the name of the member and their saving bank account number. The bill so prepared shall be endorsed in favour of bank after getting passed from the Treasury and bank shall on the basis of covering list credit in the respective accounts with the net amount payable. No legal acquittance of member for the amount so credited in the bank shall be necessary on the office copy of the Bill. But in case of cash payment, one copy of bill shall be stamped and receipted by the member],(2)The hours of departure and arrival shall be noted in the columns for the purpose, fractions of a mile in the total of the claims for a particular journey shall not be charged for.(3)The usual place of residence of the member and the name of the treasury shall be entered in manuscript in the space at the end of the form.
