Punjab State Policy on Prisons

Aims and Objectives

(i)Punjab Jail Department shall protect society and shall endeavour to reform and reassimilate offenders in the social milieu by giving them appropriate correctional treatment.(ii)There shall be a Department of Prisons and Correctional Services, dealing with adult and young offenders - their institutional care, treatment, aftercare, probation and other non-institutional services.(iii)The State shall endeavour to evolve proper mechanism to ensure that no under trial prisoner is unnecessarily detained. This object shall be achieved by speeding up trials, simplifying of bail procedure and by periodic review of cases of under trial prisoners. Under trial prisoners shall as far as possible, be confined in separate institutions.(iv)Since it is recognised that imprisonment is not always the best way to meet the objective of punishment, the State shall endeavour to provide in law new alternatives to imprisonment such as community service, forfeiture of property, payment of compensation to victims, public censure, in addition to the ones already existing, and shall specially ensure that the Probation of Offenders Act, 1958, is effectively implemented throughout the State.(v)Living conditions in every prison and allied institutions meant for the custody, care, treatment and rehabilitation of Offender shall be compatible with human dignity in all aspects such as accommodation, hygiene, sanitation, food, clothing, medical facilities. All factors responsible for vitiating the atmosphere of these institutions shall be identified and dealt with effectively.(vi)In consonance with the aims and objectives of prisons, the State shall provide appropriate facilities and professional personnel for the classification of prisoners on scientific basis. Diversified institutions shall be provided for the segregation of different categories of inmates for proper treatment.(vii)The State shall endeavour to develop the fields of criminology and penology and promote research on the typology of crime in the context of emerging patterns of crime in the country. This will help in proper classification of offenders and in devising appropriate treatment for them.(viii)A system of graded custody ranging from special security institutions to open institutions shall be provided to offer proper opportunities for the reformation of offenders according to the progress made by them.(ix)Programmes for the treatment of offenders shall be individualised and shall aim at providing them with opportunities for diversified education, development of work habits and skills, change in attitude, modification of behaviour and implementation of social and moral values.(x)The State shall endeavour to develop vocational training and work programmes in prisons for all inmates eligible to work. The aim of such training and work programmes shall be to equip inmates with better skills and work habits for their rehabilitation.(xi)Payment of fair wages and other incentives shall be associated with work programmes to encourage inmate participation in such programmes. The incentives of leave, remission and premature release to convicts shall also be utilised for improvement of their behaviour, strengthening of family ties and their early return to society.(xii)Custody being the basic function of prisons, appropriate security arrangements shall be made in accordance with the need for graded custody in different types of institutions. The management of prisons shall be characterised by firm and positive discipline, with due regard, however, to the maintenance of human rights of prisoners. The State recognise that a prisoner loses his right to liberty but maintains his residuary rights. It shall be the endeavour of State to protect these residuary rights of the prisoners.(xiii)The State shall provide free legal aid to all needy prisoners.(xiv)Prisons are not the places for confinement of children. Children (boys under 16 years of age and girls under 18 years of age) shall in no case be sent to prisons. All children confined in prisons at present shall be transferred forthwith to a separate institution, meant exclusively for children with facilities for their care, education, training and rehabilitation. Benefit of non-institutional facilities shall, whenever possible, be extended to such children.(xv)Young offenders (between 16 to 21 years in the case of boys and 18 to 21 in the case of girls) shall not be confined in prisons meant for adult offenders. There shall be separate institutions for them where, in view of their young and impressionable age, they shall be given treatment and training suited to their special needs of rehabilitation.(xvi)Women offenders shall, as far as possible, be confined in a separate institution specially meant for them. Wherever such arrangements are not possible they shall be kept in separate annexes of prisons with proper arrangements. The staff for these institutions and annexes shall comprise women employees only. Women prisoners shall be protected against all exploitation. Work and treatment programmes shall be devised for them in consonance with their special needs.(xvii)Non-criminal lunatics shall not be confined in prisons. The law shall be suitably amended for the purpose. Proper arrangements shall be made for the care and treatment of criminal lunatics.(xviii)Persons courting arrest during non-violent socio-political economic agitation for declared public causes shall not be confined in prisons alongwith other prisoners. Separate prison camps with proper and adequate facilities shall be provided for such nonviolent agitators.(xix)Prison service shall be developed as a professional career service. The State shall endeavour to develop a well-organised prison cadre based on appropriate job requirements, sound training and proper promotional avenues. The efficient functioning of prisons depends undoubtedly upon the personal qualities, educational qualifications, professional competence and character of prison personnel. The status, emoluments and other service conditions of prison personnel should be commensurate with their job requirements and responsibilities. Proper training facilities for prison personnel shall be developed at the State Level.(xx)The State shall endeavour to secure and encourage voluntary participation of the community in prison programmes and in non-institutional treatment of offenders on an extensive and systematic basis. Such participation is necessary in view of the objective of ultimate rehabilitation of the offenders in the community. The Government shall open avenues for such participation and shall extend financial and other assistance to voluntary organisations and individuals willing to extend help to prisoners and ex- prisoners.(xxi)Prisons are hitherto a closed world. It is necessary to open them to some kind of positive and constructive public discernment. Selected eminent publicmen shall be authorised to visit prisons and give independent report on them to appropriate authorities.(xxii)In order to provide a forum in the community for continuous thinking on problem of prisons, for promoting professional knowledge and for generating public interest in the reformation of offenders, it is necessary that a professional non-official registered body is established at the State level.(xxiii)Probation, aftercare, rehabilitation and follow-up of offenders shall form an integral part of the functions of the Department of Prisons and Correctional Services.(xxiv)The development of prisons shall be planned in a systematic manner keeping in view the objectives and goals to be achieved. The progress of the implementation of such plans shall be continuously monitored and periodically evaluated.(xxv)The Government at the State shall endeavour to provide adequate resources for the development of prisons and other allied services.(xxvi)Government recognise that the process of the reformation and rehabilitation of offenders is an integral part of total process of social reconstruction, and therefore, the development of prisons shall find a place in the State development plans.(xxvii)As prisons form part of the criminal justice system and the functioning of other branches of the system viz. police, the prosecution and judiciary have a bearing on the working of prisons, it is necessary to effect proper co-ordination among these branches. (1) Special precautions should be taken for the safe custody of dangerous prisoners whether they are awaiting trial or have been convicted. On being admitted to jail they should be (a) placed in charge of trustworthy warders, (b) confined in the most secure building available, (c) as far as practicable confined in different barracks or cells each night, (d) thoroughly searched at least twice daily and occasionally at uncertain hours (the Deputy Superintendent must search them atleast once daily and he must satisfy himself that they are properly searched by a trustworthy subordinate at other times). They should not be employed on any industry affording facilities for escape and should not be entrusted with implements that can be used as weapons. Warders on taking over charge of such prisoners must search them and the iron bars or the gratings of the barracks/cells in which they are confined are secure and all locks, bolts etc. are in proper order. They should during their turns of duty frequently satisfy themselves that all such prisoners are in their places, and should acquaint themselves with their appearances. Light to be kept burning at night. - (2) From sunset to sunrise a good light shall at the discretion of the Superintendent be kept burning in front of the grated door of every cell in which a dangerous prisoner is confined, so that he may at all times remain under observation.

330. Letting out cooks to prepare early morning meal.

- When it is necessary to let out cooks before day-break to prepare the early morning meal the patrolling officer shall, at the hour fixed, let out the necessary number and put them in charge of a warder or convict-warder as may be directed.

331. Warders may be posted on the central tower.

- In jails where there is a central tower three selected warders may be posted therein at night, each to take a watch in turn, to act as a means of communication between the watch and the patrolling officer and to sound the alarm in case of need. A code of signals can be arranged by striking gong in the tower by which the attention of the Head-warder can be directed to any particular part of the jail.

332. Visits by officials at night; report to be made.

- Every Deputy Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent shall, in the case of a Central jail, ordinarily visit all parts of the Jail at night at least once a week and of a District Jail twice a week each on different nights, and see that the officers on duty are on the alert and moving on their beats, that the lamps are showing sufficient light. The time of the visit should not be made known before hand. The date of the visit, the hour of entering and leaving the jail and a report of any unusual occurrence that comes under observation, shall be recorded in a book which shall be provided for the purpose at the main gate. This book shall remain in the custody of the gate-keeper during the day and the sentry incharge main gate during the night. The gatekeeper should produce it before the Superintendent on his arrival at the jail in the morning. Note. - In the District Jails the Chief Head Warder 'Chakker' may also be required to visit the Jail at night.

333. Opening wards at night, precautions to be taken.

- To the door-posts of all sleeping wards shall be affixed a chain with a hook at the free end which can be attached at will to the door, so as to admit or allow the exit of one person at a time and no more. Should it be necessary to open a sleeping ward at night for purposes other than the emergency of fire, prior to unlocking the door the chain should be hooked in. No ward shall be opened at night unless the Deputy Superintendent or Assistant Superintendent and one other officer are present except in the case of fire.

334. Locks to be out of reach.

- The locks of the doors of all sleeping wards and cells shall be so arranged that no prisoner can reach them from the inside.

335. Custody and control of prisoner outside the jail.

- A prisoner, when being taken to or from any prison in which he may be lawfully confined, or whenever he is working outside or is otherwise beyond the limits of any such prison in or under the lawful custody or control of a prison-officer belonging to such prison, shall be deemed to be in prison and shall be subject to all the same incidents as if he were actually in prison. [Section 55 Act IX of 1894]Police Guards

336. Police guards to be provided under certain conditions.

- Whenever it is necessary to place prisoners in confinement in any place without the walls of the jail, the Superintendent shall apply to the Superintendent of Police for such police guard as may, in the opinion of the latter officer, be necessary and the Superintendent of Police shall supply such guard accordingly.

337. Responsibility of police guard when guarding prisoners.

- In every case in which prisoners are guarded by the police under the provisions of the preceding rule, the responsibility for the safe custody of the prisoners shall rest with the police.

338. Action when any jail becomes temporarily insecure.

- If, from any cause, any jail, at any time, becomes temporarily insecure, the Superintendent shall inform the Superintendent of Police of the fact, and it shall be the duty of that officer to supply such police guard as he may think necessary to provide for the safety of the prisoners until the jail is made secure. Alarm Parade, Escapes and Outbreaks

339. Preparations and procedure for dealing with cases of escape and disturbance.

- The precautions to be taken and the procedure to be adopted to guard against and deal with cases of escape and disturbance in jails, are as follows :-(a)The main gate sentry of every jail shall be provided with a bell, gong or drum with which to raise the alarm, he shall also be provided with means for raising an alarm. When prisoners are working in large numbers either inside or outside the jail, at a point so distant that a warder's whistle sounded at such place, cannot be heard by either the main gate sentry or second sentry, a gong or other preconcerted means of conveying information rapidly of any untoward occurrence shall be provided. Immediately a prisoner is found to be missing or in the event of any attempt to break jail or on any other disturbance taking place or even appearing imminent, an alarm parade shall be called and the Deputy Superintendent Jail shall despatch a messenger to convey brief information of what has happened to the Superintendent.(b)The Officer who first notices the incident, whatever it may be, shall blow his whistle continuously, and all warders on hearing it shall repeat the whistle till the continuous sounding of the alarm gong or bell at the jail gate shows that the information has reached there. A sentry on hearing a whistle or a bell or gong sounding the alarm in any part of the jail or its neighbourhood, shall repeat the alarm till the whole establishment is thoroughly aroused. The whistle or gong used for sounding an alarm should be of a different tone to that used for ordinary parades, if there be a bugler on the establishment, his services should be availed of to sound the alarm on his bugle. The Head Warder or warder on duty at the place where the alarm originated, shall despatch a junior warder or a trustworthy convict-officer with all haste to the jail gate, to convey such information as is known regarding the character of the occurrence that has or is about to take place, so that the Deputy Superintendent or other officer incharge may be in a position to direct operations accordingly; for instance in the case of an escape, the prisoner's name, where he was last seen, the direction he has probably taken and the part of the jail or jail precincts he has disappeared from will all be valuable pieces of information in leading to his recapture. In a case of a disturbance, the locality in which it occurred and the approximate number of prisoners engaged in it, will enable the officer in command to dispose of his forces in the most effective manner for its suppression.(c)Promptitude in starting an alarm is a most urgent and important duty, when a prisoner is discovered to be missing, or a disturbance has broken out or is on the point of breaking out, no attempt at a search or at suppression, as the case may be, shall be made, till measures are first taken to give the alarm; the fact that the missing man was found or the disturbance put down without the necessity of doing so shall not be accepted as palliating, in any way, neglect of this order.(d)On hearing the sound of the alarm, the warders in charge of gangs outside the jail shall collect their prisoners and march them to a pre-arranged place where a sufficiency of belchains shall be disposed during working hours. The prisoners shall sit in single file and the chain having been passed through their ankle rings shall be secured by locking. The lock may remain at all times on one end of the chain, but the key, whether a parade is in progress or not, shall remain with the senior warder in charge of the gang.Note. - As an alarm parade may be ordered at any time and it is of importance that prisoners should not know whether any given parade is merely for practice or not, the same attention to details should be given on all occasions. In the case of an attempt on the part of a body of prisoners to break out of the main gate, it would be unwise to open the gates or wickets for the purpose of returning extramural gangs into the jail until the enclosure in the vicinity of the inner gate is first cleared of prisoners for this reason gangs at work outside should, on the occurrence of an alarm, be chained up where the work is in progress.(e)At times of alarm, all prisoners inside the jail shall be locked into the nearest or most convenient ward, workshop or other building and warders on duty will keep a watch on the places of confinement of prisoners.(f)On the sound of the alarm, jail official (except warders in charge of gangs), shall proceed immediately, no matter where or how engaged or whether in proper uniform or not, to the jail armoury and arm himself with his rifle and 10 rounds of buckshot ammunition. He shall then fall into line and place himself under the orders of the Deputy Superintendent or other senior officer present. The procedure to be followed by the officer in charge must necessarily depend on the character of the occurrence with which he has to deal. In all cases, however, a sentry should be posted on the roof of the main gate or other position where he can command a view of the interior of the jail, and two small pickets, each in charge of a Head-Warder or Senior-Warder, should be despatched to take up positions near the rear angles of the jail, and instructed to prevent any attempt on the part of prisoners to scale the walls in that direction. A few men should be set aside as a reserve to render assistance at any point where their services may be specially required and with instructions to proceed to the spot from which the sound of a rifle shot comes : (warders in need of assistance shall fire a shot in the air to intimate the fact). When prisoners are chained up outside the jail, it will be also necessary to post a small picket over them. The disposal of the remaining men will depend on circumstances.(g)If it be a case of escape or disturbance outside the jail, it shall be the duty of the officer incharge to despatch his spare men in search of the missing prisoner or to take measures to quell the disturbance as the case may be, using his powers with discretion and effecting his object with as little display of force as is under the circumstances, necessary.(h)Should it be a case of riot or disturbance inside the jail, the officer in charge will have to lead his men in to put it down. Before taking such a step, however, he shall first satisfy himself by enquiry from the sentry on the roof of the gateway that there are no prisoners in the enclosure in the vicinity of the gate. Should there be, the gate should not be opened till the crowd is dispersed, and this can be effectually done from the gateway roof. He shall then lead his men in double file or in "threes" between the gates. When the outer gate has been bolted and, locked, the inner one may be opened and the men marched in double time to the scene of the disturbance, to act as the officer in command may dictate.(i)Whether an alarm is real or false all the details, from the preliminary whistle of the warder to the conclusion of the search for the missing prisoners or the suppression of the disturbance, as the case may be, should be carried out. To accustom warders to the different circumstances with which they may be called upon to deal and test their preparedness to turn out at short notice, an alarm parade shall be held twice a month at any hour of the day or night without previous warning and started from one of the places where prisoners are usually assembled.(j)In the case of an escape or disturbance at night, or after all the gangs are inside the jail, the same method of starting an alarm shall be followed, namely, the blowing of a whistle and the conveyance of the necessary information to the jail gate, by the patrolling officer if after lock up, or by some junior official it before that time. A sentry shall be posted over the main gate and the necessary pickets sent to the rear of the jail to frustrate any attempt at an escape, as is done in alarm parades by day. If it be reported that a prisoner has escaped and it appears probable that he is still lurking within the jail, warders with lighted torches shall be posted at intervals inside the enclosure walls and the remaining warders divided into two parties each with lighted torches, one to search inside and the other outside the jail.Note. - Torches ready for use and a sufficiency of oil should be kept in a box at the main gate and 'Chakkar'.(k)It is the duty of the gate sentry at times of alarm to defend the gate and to protect any officer of the prison or other person to whom a prisoner may be actually using violence.(l)Absolute silence should be preserved at alarm parades and all the details carried out in an orderly and systematic manner. Senior Assistant Superintendents, Assistant Superintendents, Head-warders and Senior warders who have to take charge of detached parties of men, should be informed before hand of the duties required of them so that they may know exactly what to do and where to go when the alarm sounds, without waiting for instructions from the officer in charge.(m)In case of a disturbance, the officer incharge should keep his men together in line and not allow them to approach the body of prisoners nearer than thirty yards, from which distance he is in the best position to deal with the rioters. A few warders should in all cases be armed with batons and supplied with handcuffs to arrest and secure any ring-leaders or escaping prisoners.Note. - Police tear gas squads may be requisitioned by the jail in the case of emergency whenever considered necessary.(n)The alarm shall be concluded by blowing "the retire" on a bugle or sounding the alarm gong as a signal for all officers who took part in the parade to return to the jail gate, fall into line and be dismissed by the Deputy Superintendent.(o)The Deputy Superintendent shall note in his journal the date and hour at which the parade was held, the time taken by the warders to fall in and arm themselves, the names of any subordinates who were late or absent, and any defects that were noticed.Note. - A copy of such report should be submitted to the Inspector- General by the Superintendent Jail giving details of the action proposed to be taken against defaulters, if any, immediately after holding the alarm parade.

In the event of a disturbance occurring in the jail which is likely to develop into a serious riot, the Superintendent of Jail shall send a message to the District Magistrate or in his absence the next Senior Magistrate present in the station on the telephone or by a fast messenger, informing him about the situation and if he (Superintendent, Jail) considers that the presence of the District Magistrate or in his absence the next Senior Magistrate is necessary, he will at the same time request him to come to the jail. On receipt of such a message, the above-mentioned officer will immediately proceed to the Jail and it will be open to him to take all such measures as may be necessary in the special circumstances of the case, to restore order, - vide Clause (b) of the general directions under sub-section (2) of Section 11, of the Prisons Act, 1894 and directions issued by the State Government, as embodied in Paragraphs 38 and 39. All action taken will be promptly reported by him to the higher authorities.

343. Report to the Inspector-General of escape and recapture.

(1)A brief report (Form No. 148) on every escape that has taken place, shall be submitted to the Inspector-General at once, to be followed by a full report detailing the results of the enquiry which the Superintendent shall make as soon after the occurrence as possible. A copy of the judgment in the case of a prisoner tried for escaping, shall also be submitted to the Inspector-General. In the case of escapes that have not been due to negligence alone but in part to some defect in the buildings or in the method of guarding, such defect should be clearly pointed out.(2)A report of the recapture of a prisoner shall be made to the Inspector-General (Form No. 149) giving particulars of the date and circumstances of recapture and such additional details of the escape as may be elicited from the prisoner.Note. - The report in Form No. 148 and the detailed report should be submitted in duplicate for transmission of one copy to Government.

(3) Deprivation of Privileges by escape or attempt to escape. - Every prisoner who at any time escapes or attempts to escape from any custody in which he is lawfully detained after admission to jail, shall, if he is of the casual class, forthwith be removed from that class and placed in the habitual class.

Note 1. - A warrant ordering imprisonment without specifying whether it is to be simple or rigorous imprisonment, an undated, an unsigned or unsealed warrant shall be returned or correction. Note 2. - Every warrant should show the class (habitual or casual) to which the prisoner belongs and in case of those previously convicted, a statement showing the previous conviction should be attached. Note 3. - The Superintendent of a jail is justified in refusing to receive or detain a prisoner in jail on a warrant to which is affixed a signature by means of a stamp. Note 4. - All warrants should be signed in full (not initialled) by the Judge or Magistrate who issues it and should be sealed with the seal of the court. Note 5. - In the case of prisoners on whom separate sentences are passed, care should be taken about the date mentioned in warrant of commitment from which each sentence will have effect and whether the different sentences will run concurrently or consecutively. Note 6. - In the case of under-trial prisoners, the warrant of commitment for intermediate custody should be prepared with the greatest care possible with reference to the above instructions. Note 7. - The Superintendent jail should not refuse to admit the prisoner where the above instructions have not been complied with, but should draw the immediate attention of the Magistrate concerned to the defects in the warrant of commitment and ask for its rectification at once, sending at the same time a copy of his letter to the District Magistrate in case warrant issued by an executive Magistrate and to the District and Sessions Judge in case warrant issued by a Judicial Magistrate for information. Note 8. - Warrants for the release or remission of sentences of prisoners confined in jail, warrants for the release of prisoners on bail and intimations of payment of fines sent to jail authorities should always be drawn up in Punjabi and should be signed in full by such officer and sealed with the seal of his court. They should be sent to the jail authorities through an official messenger of the court or through the agency of the post and not through the friends or relatives of prisoners. Note 9. - There should be a separate warrant or notice for every prisoner even if two or more prisoners have been jointly charged or convicted. Note 10. - Where an accused person has on conviction, been sentenced to imprisonment for a term, the period of detention, if any undergone by him during the investigation, inquiry or trial of the same case and before the date of such conviction, shall be set off against the term of imprisonment imposed on him on such conviction, and the liability of such person to undergo imprisonment on such conviction shall be restricted to the remainder, if any, of the term of imprisonment imposed on him.

376. Procedure when representations are not attended to.

- The Superintendent shall in any case in which his representations have not been attended to by the Court addressed, take action according to procedure given in Para 378 below (Section 17 of Act III of 1900).

377. Copy of warrant returned for correction to be kept.

- When a warrant is returned for correction, its photostat copy shall be retained in the appropriate compartment of the warrant almirah until the original is returned. Blank forms of warrants (C.C. Forms Nos. 133 and 134) shall be kept for this purpose.

378. Procedure when the legality of a warrant is doubted.

(1)Where an officer in charge of a prison doubts the legality of a warrant or order sent to him for execution, or the competency of the person whose official seal and signature are affixed thereto to pass the sentence and issue such warrant or order, he shall refer the matter to the District and Sessions Judge and State Government, by whose order on the case he and all other public officers shall be guided as to the future disposal of the prisoner. Section 17 Act III of 1900Pending a reference made under sub-section (1), the prisoner shall be detained in such manner and with such restrictions or limitations as may be specified in the warrant or order.

379. Two or more sentences, how to take effect. Procedure in case of doubt.

(1)Regarding the manner in which two or more sentences inflicted at the same time or at different times on the same person are to take effect, see Sections 31, 426 and 427 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973.(2)In case of doubt as to the order in which sentences shall take effect, the instructions of the court imposing the latest sentence shall be taken.

380. Date of release. Responsibility for correctness.

(1)The date on which a prisoner is entitled to be released shall be calculated by the Deputy Superintendent and an entry made in the release register (No. 4) under that date, giving the name and serial number, etc., of the prisoner. It is not the duty of the committing officer to note the date of release on the warrant; if such date is noted incorrectly or omitted, the warrant shall not be returned for correction on that account.(2)In case the date of release be changed either by the imposition of additional imprisonment or by remission of any part of the sentence, or by absence on bail or after escape, a new date of release shall be fixed and an entry made under that date in release register. The old entry should be scored through with red ink and a reference made against it to the new date fixed.(3)The Deputy Superintendent shall himself check each entry in the release register and admission register and shall be personally responsible for their correctness.

381. Certain days to count as days of sentence.

(1) In calculating the day on which any prisoner is entitled to be released, the day on which the sentence is passed and the day on which the prisoner is released, respectively, shall be deemed to be days of imprisonment: Provided that if, in the case of any prisoner, two or more sentences are to be undergone otherwise than concurrently, no day shall be connect as a day of imprisonment in respect of more than one such sentence, and that a sentence of imprisonment for one day or for twenty-four hours shall be deemed to expire on the morning of the day following that on which the sentence was passed. (2) In calculating periods of imprisonment expressed in months, a month shall be deemed to be a calendar month. Example 1. - A prisoner sentenced to one year's imprisonment on the 15th January, 1980, shall be released on the 14th January, 1981, a prisoner sentenced on the 1st January to one month's imprisonment shall be released on the 31st of the same month. Example 2. - A, B and C are sentenced, respectively, to one month's imprisonment on the 29th, 30th and 31st January, 1980, all three sentences expire on the morning of the 28th February.

382. Period to be excluded from sentence.

- When, by order of any competent authority, any prisoner is released on bail or the operation of any sentence of imprisonment passed upon any prisoner is, for any reason, suspended for a time, and such prisoner is subsequently again lawfully committed to prison, the period during which such prisoner was so released on bail or the sentence of imprisonment passed on such prisoner was so suspended, shall unless the warrant or order of recommitment otherwise directs, be excluded in calculating the period of the sentence: Provided that -(a) a prisoner who is released on bail on the day on which the sentence of imprisonment is passed shall not be deemed to have undergone any part of his sentence until he is again placed in confinement; and that (b) this rule shall not be deemed to apply to persons undergoing imprisonment under the provisions of Section 122 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973. Note. - A prisoner released on bail on a day subsequent to that on which he was committed to jail but who is again recommitted to undergo sentence in the same case, shall be entitled to count every day of admission and every day of release as days of imprisonment in respect of such sentence.

383. Date of release when a period has been excluded from sentence.

- When a period has been excluded from a sentence under the preceding rule, the mode to be adopted in calculating the date of release is to take the full term of the sentence as commencing from the date of readmission and deduct from it the number of days already passed in jail; the date so arrived at will be the date on which the sentence expires.

384. Operation of a second sentence when a first sentence is set aside.

(a) When a prisoner has been committed to jail at one trial under two separate warrants, the sentence in the one to take effect from the expiry of the sentence in the other, the date of such second sentence shall, in the event of the first sentence being set aside on appeal, be presumed to take effect from the date on which he was committed to jail under the first or original sentence.(b)"When separate sentences have been passed in separate trials and the sentences are to run consecutively under Section 427 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1973, the operation of the second sentence will, in the event of the first sentence being set aside on appeal, commence from the date of conviction in the second case."

385. Date from which a sentence finally passed shall count.

- When an appellate court modifies a sentence passed by a lower court without change of section, or when an appellate court passes a new sentence by changing the convicting section or the punishment section or otherwise, the sentence finally passed shall count, unless otherwise specially directed from the date of imprisonment under the original sentence.

386. Date of release when two or more sentences run consecutively.

- When a prisoner is sentenced to two or more terms of imprisonment to be served consecutively, the date of release shall be calculated as if the sum of the terms was awarded in one sentence. Example. - A prisoner, sentenced on the 21st June, 1980, to one year's imprisonment is, for another offence, subsequently sentenced to a further term of one year, the period to commence from the Expiration of the first sentence, he will be released on the 20th June, 1982, not on the 19th June, 1982.

387. Calculation of date of release when fine is partially paid.

- If a prisoner be sentenced to imprisonment of which the whole or any portion is in default of the payment of any fine, and if the fine or a portion of it be not immediately paid, the date of release shall be fixed and entered in the release diaries on such dates as shall correspond to payment as well as non- payment of the fine. When any portion of the fine is subsequently paid, the date of release shall be altered accordingly. Example. - If a prisoner be sentenced on the 1st January, to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 300, or in default of payment to be imprisoned for a further period of six months, then, supposing that the prisoner, immediately on conviction, pays Rs. 100, the date of release shall be first fixed at the 31st October, that is, six months plus four months (being the term proportionate to the amount of the fine unpaid), and entries shall be made in the release register on the 30th June and 31st October, if he afterwards pays another Rs. 100 the latter date shall be changed to 31st August; on his paying the whole, the fact shall be noted opposite the entry on the 30th June.

388. Calculation of remission on payment of fine.

- If a prisoner who is sentenced to a fine and in default to imprisonment for a certain number of months, pays any part of his fine, the remission for the payment shall be calculated in calendar months, and not in days. Any fraction of a month obtained by such calculation shall be reduced to days. A fraction of a day less than one-half shall not be counted, any greater fraction shall count as one day. Example. - If a prisoner be sentenced on the 15th July to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of Rs. 300, or in default of payment to six month's further imprisonment and he pays Rs. 63, the calculation shall be made as follows. - $\text{Rs. } 63/300 \times 6 \text{ months} = 63/50 = 1 - 13/50 \text{ months}$. The date of release, deducting one month, would fall on the 14th June. As the month preceding June has 31 days the $13/50 \times 31 = 403/50 = 8 - 3/50 \text{ days}$. Here the remission for payment of Rs. 63 is 1 month and 8 days. If the prisoner has been sentenced on 15th June instead of 15th July, the calculation of the $13/50$ of a month would have to be made on a 30 days' month because from any date in April to the same date in May is 30 days, as follows : - $13/50 \times 30 = 39/5 = 7 - 4/5 \text{ days}$ so that in that case, the remission would be also 1 month and 8 days ($4/5$ of a day being more than half a day).

389. Disposal of notice of payment of fine.

- If a fine is paid in part or whole after a prisoner is admitted to jail, the court receiving it will, unless it has already received back the prisoner's warrant with an endorsement showing that he has been released, notify the fact to the Superintendent of the Jail in which the prisoner was first confined after conviction. This notification shall be filed with the warrant and returned with it after the sentence has been carried out.

390. Procedure when a prisoner with imprisonment in lieu of fine is transferred.

- When a prisoner whose sentence includes an order of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, is received by transfer from a jail other than the jail in which he was first confined, intimation shall forthwith be given by the receiving jail to the Superintendent of the jail where he was first confined, who shall cause a record or the receipt of such intimation to be made in the admission register of his jail. The Superintendent of the jail to which a prisoner was first committed, is responsible for seeing that notifications of payment of the fine received by him, are promptly transmitted to the jail in which the prisoner is confined, such notice shall be sent under a registered cover.

391. The payment of fine at the jail.

- The Superintendent is authorised to receive fines tendered at the jail. In the absence of the Superintendent, the Deputy Superintendent shall receive the fine or portion thereof tendered to him and shall on the first opportunity produce the warrant with any entry of the fact that such payment has been made for the signature of the Superintendent. Note. - Fines received at the jail shall without delay be remitted into the local Treasury through the District Magistrate. All fines tendered to a jail shall be received irrespective of the fact whether the prisoner is due for release or not provided he is in the jail at which the fine is paid.

392. Imprisonment in lieu of fine to succeed substantive sentence.

- If a prisoner sentenced to a term of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, is either at the same time or subsequently sentenced to a term of imprisonment without the option of fine the imprisonment in default of payment of fine shall be kept in abeyance till the expiration of all the substantive sentences of imprisonment. Example. - A prisoner is sentenced on the 9th June, 1897 to two years' rigorous imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 50, or in default, six months' further rigorous imprisonment, on the 17th July of the same year he is sentenced on another charge to imprisonment for 18 months, and on the 6th October, 1898, he is again sentenced on a third charge to imprisonment for two years, the sentence of six months' imprisonment in default of payment of fine should begin from the 9th December, 1902; (the date on which all the substantive sentences expire, i.e. the 8th December). Note. - This covers the case of a prisoner whose first sentence of imprisonment is in default of payment of fine. Any substantive sentence of imprisonment subsequently passed shall count from the date of the first sentence, and the imprisonment in lieu of fine shall take effect last, although a portion of it may have been already served when the substantive sentence was awarded; if, however, the imprisonment in default of payment of fine is of a different character to that of the substantive sentence, such imprisonment in default shall be completed before the substantive sentence of imprisonment shall take effect.

393. Imprisonment under Section 106 or 117 Cr.P.C. in addition to a substantive sentence.

(1) If any person, in respect of whom an order requiring security is made under Section 106 or Section 117, is, at the time such order is made sentenced to or undergoing a sentence of imprisonment, the period for which such security is required shall commence on the expiration of such sentence. (2) In other cases such period shall commence on the date of such order unless the Magistrate, for sufficient reason, fixes a later date. Note. - An order under Section 122, Criminal Procedure Code, directing that a person who has failed to give security shall be detained in prison is not a "sentence of imprisonment" for the purposes of Section 427 of the Code. It is merely an order for detention in prison, and if it is passed under Clause 1 (2) of Section 122, the Magistrate's proceedings must be laid before the Sessions Judge, who may thereafter pass such order on the case as he thinks fit, but if the Sessions Judge confirms, or varies the order, and does not set it aside, the period for which detention is ordered must date from the time when the first court passed its order.

394. Imprisonment awarded to an escaped convict how to take effect.

- When an additional sentence of imprisonment is passed on an escaped convict who has been recaptured, such sentence shall take effect according to the following rules :- If the new sentence is severer in its kind than the sentence which such convict was undergoing when he escaped, the new sentence shall take effect immediately, and the unexpired portion of the sentence he was undergoing when he escaped, shall be served subsequently. When the new sentence is not more severe, it shall take effect after he has served the portion of his original sentence which at the time of his escape remained unexpired. A sentence of rigorous imprisonment is severer than one of simple imprisonment.

395. Management and custody of warrant.

- The date of a prisoner's admission into jail and the register number given to him, shall be endorsed on his warrant and signed by the Deputy Superintendent; the warrants shall be arranged according to the date of release and put together in open fold in monthly bundles and docketed outside with the month and year. Each bundle shall occupy a separate receptacle in the warrant almirah, of which the Deputy Superintendent/Assistant Superintendent incharge shall keep the key.

396. Prisoners to be examined on admission.

(1)Whenever a prisoner is admitted into prison, he shall be searched, and all weapons and prohibited articles shall be taken from him.(a)When a prisoner with injuries on his body is admitted into a prison from Police custody, he shall be examined immediately by the Medical Officer. If the examination reveals unexplained injuries not already recorded in the medico-legal report accompanying the prisoner, a report shall at once be made to the District Magistrate and Superintendent of Police.(2)Every criminal prisoner shall also, as soon as possible after admission, be examined under the general or special orders of the Medical Officer, who shall enter or cause to be entered in a book (admission register), to be kept by the Assistant Superintendent/Deputy Superintendent, a record of the state of the prisoner's health^and of any wounds or marks on his person, the class of labour he is fit for if sentenced to rigorous imprisonment, and any observations which the Medical Officer thinks fit to add.(3)In the case of female prisoners, the search and examination shall be carried out by the female warder under the general or special orders of the Medical Officer. [Section 24 Act IX of 1894]

397. Record for the purpose of identification.

398. Police-registered prisoners. How divided and distinguished.

(1)Police-registered prisoners are divided into two classes. The first class consists of prisoners who shall, two months before release "or a fortnight, as the case requires" be transferred to the jail of the district in which their respective homes are situated. This class will be distinguished in the admission and release diaries as P.R./T. prisoners. The letters 'P.R.', indicating that the prisoner is "Police-registered", and the letter 'T' that he is to be transferred two months prior to his release to the district noted on the slip as his native district :Provided there is a Central or District Jail located there otherwise a fortnight prior to his release if there is only a sub-jail. When intimation respecting a prisoner's police registration is received after the name has been entered in the registers above-named, the letters P.R./T as the case may be shall be added in red ink, the P.R. form being attached to the warrant of the prisoner to whom it appertains. On the death or escape of a prisoner of P.R. class, the P.R. form attached to his warrant shall be at once returned to the Superintendent of Police of the district in which he was sentenced, with an endorsement showing the date of his death or escape. The cases of premature release will only be considered provided the convict has maintained good conduct in jail. For this purpose good conduct means that he has not committed any jail offence for a period of 5 years prior to the date of his eligibility for consideration for release as per Para 1.1 above. III. Cases for premature release will only be considered if the Government is satisfied that in the event of release of the convict there is no likelihood of the convict committing a crime or breach of peace in any way connected with the circumstances of the crime for which he was originally convicted. IV. The Government reserves the right to exercise its powers under Article 161 of the Constitution in any way it deems fit.

2. Procedure to be followed :

The minimum period of actual imprisonment to be undergone before a case for premature release is considered will be as follows :

| For convicts whose death sentence has been commuted to life imprisonment | Convicts who have been imprisoned for life for offences for which death is a punishment and have committed heinous crime | Convicts who have been imprisoned for life for offences for which death is a penalty but crimes are not considered heinous | Other life convicts imprisoned for life for offences for which the death penalty is not a punishment and have committed heinous crime | Other life convicts | | | |

As regards procedure it would not be necessary for the convict to submit his petition on completion of the required number of years of actual imprisonment. The IG Prisons would send the case of the concerned convict to Government on or after the eligibility date which would then obtain the report of the District Magistrate and take appropriate decision. As regards the prisoners convicted before 18.12.1978. (b) In cases in which the convict or under trial is taken to hospital for treatment as an outpatient only or for X-ray examination the Superintendent of the jail is empowered to authorise the visit himself. He is, however, required to report the matter for the information of the Inspector-General. Every petition in Punjabi should be accompanied by a carefully prepared translation which, to ensure its accuracy, should be examined by the Superintendent while the Punjabi papers are being read out to him. The document should then be attested by the Superintendent and forwarded without delay by "Registered" Post in a Pink coloured envelope inscribed "Death Case - Immediate." standardized for use in all jails.Note 1. - The procedure laid down for opening dak in jail offices is indicated in Punjab Government letter No. 34419 dated 26th December, 1933 (Vide Note 1 at the end of paragraph).Note 2. - In forwarding a mercy petition, the Superintendent should certify that the execution has been stayed pending the orders of the Governor and the President of India and noting the pending orders of State Government. 468. General rules for the grant of interviews and communications.

(2) Every prisoner committed to prison in default of payment of a fine or of finding security under Chapter VIII of the Code of Criminal Procedure shall be allowed to communicate by letter and to have interviews at any reasonable time with his relations or friends for the purpose of arranging for the payment of the fine or the furnishing of security. (3) Every prisoner under sentence of death shall be allowed such interviews and other communications with his relatives, friends and legal advisers as the Superintendent thinks reasonable.

469. Rules for grant of interviews and communications to and by convict.

- In addition to the privileges granted in paragraph, every convicted prisoner shall be allowed to have an interview with his relatives or friends and to write a letter once a week during the term of his imprisonment: Provided that the exercise of this privilege shall be contingent on good conduct and may be withdrawn or postponed by the Superintendent for bad conduct. Matters of importance, such as the death of a relative, may also be communicated at any time by the friends of a prisoner to the Superintendent who will, if he think it expedient, inform the prisoner of the substance of the communication.

471. No interview or communication to take place without sanction of Superintendent.

- No convicted prisoner shall be allowed to have an interview or to receive or write a letter except with the permission of the Superintendent, which shall be recorded in writing.

472. Application for interview to be oral or in writing.

- Applications for interviews with prisoners may be oral or in writing at the discretion of the Superintendent. If the prisoner is not entitled to an interview, the applicant shall be informed at once.

473. Persons granted an interview may be searched.

- Every person desiring to hold an interview with any prisoner shall, before such interview is allowed to take place or he is allowed to enter the jail, is called upon by the Deputy Superintendent so to do, give his name and address and submit to be searched. Provided that no such search shall be made in the presence of any prisoner or person other than the proper officer of the jail, and, in the case of a female visitor, that such search shall be conducted by the female head warder or a female warder. If the visitor refuses to submit to be searched or to give his name or address, he shall not be permitted to enter the jail or to interview any prisoner.

474. Search of visitors.

(1)The Deputy Superintendent may demand the name and address of any visitor to a prisoner, and, when the Deputy Superintendent has any ground for suspicion, may search any visitor, or cause him to be searched, but the search shall not be made in the presence of any prisoner or of another visitor.(2)In case of any such visitor refusing to permit himself to be searched, the Deputy Superintendent may deny him admission, and the grounds of such proceeding, with the particulars thereof, shall be entered in such record as the State Government may direct. [Sec. 41 Act IX 1894]Note. - The record required by clause (2) shall be made in the Deputy Superintendent's journal interviews register.

475. Time and days of interviews.

- Every convicted prisoner and every unconvicted criminal prisoner shall be carefully searched before and after an interview. Interviews with Prisoners. - Jail Authorities allowing two persons to interview an undertrial prisoner. Court cannot fix or enlarge the number of interviewers. This is the domain of Jail authorities. Visits by family and friends. - Visits to prisoners by family and friends are a solace in insulation; and only a dehumanised system can derive vicarious delight in depriving prison inmates of this humane amenity. Subject, of course, to search and discipline and other security criteria, the right to society of fellowmen, parents and other family members cannot be denied in the light of Article 19 and its sweep. Moreover, the whole habilitative purpose of sentencing is to soften, not to harden and this will be promoted by more such meetings. A sullen, forlorn prisoner is a dangerous criminal in the making and the prison is the factory. There is no reason why the right to be visited under reasonable restrictions, should not claim current constitutional status. Subject to considerations of security and discipline, liberal visits by family members, close friends and legitimate callers, are part of the prisoners' kit of rights and shall be respected.

481. Procedure as to the delivery of letters.

- No letter shall be delivered to or sent by a convicted prisoner until it has been examined by the Superintendent or by the Deputy Superintendent or other officer under the Superintendent's orders, but no unnecessary delay should be allowed to occur in delivery or despatch. The Superintendent may withhold any letter which seems to him to be in any way improper or objectionable, or may erase any improper or objectionable passages.

482. Detention or return of letters received for prisoners.

- If a letter is addressed to a prisoner who is not entitled under the rules to receive it, it may, unless the Superintendent determines to communicate it, be withheld and kept in the Superintendent's custody until the prisoner is entitled to receive it or is released, when it shall be delivered to him, unless it is improper or objectionable; or it may be returned to the sender with an intimation that the prisoner is not entitled to receive it.

483. Custody of letters received by prisoners.

- A convict may retain any letter which has been delivered to him with due authority unless the Superintendent otherwise directs, or may ask that it be kept for him.

484. Provision of writing material.

(1) Writing material including service postcards and service stamps shall be supplied to convicts, under-trials and civil prisoner as under:-

- | | |
|--------------------------------------|---------------|
| (i) Convicted prisoners | Once a week |
| (ii) Unconvicted and civil prisoners | twice a week. |

(2) Expenses of postage for additional letters, permissible under the rules shall be borne by the prisoners themselves.

485. Superintendent may refuse any interview.

- A Superintendent may refuse to allow any interview to which a prisoner would ordinarily be entitled under these rules, but in every such case, if in his opinion it is inexpedient in the public interest to allow any particular person to interview a prisoner or if other sufficient cause exists, he shall record his reasons for such refusal in his journal.

486. Abuse of privilege of holding interview.

- Any prisoner who abuses any privilege relating to the holding of an interview or the writing of letters or other communication with any person outside the jail shall be liable to be excluded from such privileges for such time and may be subjected to such further restrictions as the Superintendent may direct.

B. - Special Rules Relating to Under-trial and Civil Prisoners

487. Visitors to civil and unconvicted criminal prisoners.

- Due provision shall be made for the admission, at proper times and under proper restrictions into every prison of persons with Whom civil or unconvicted criminal prisoners may desire to communicate, care being taken that, so far as may be consistent with the interests of justice, prisoners under trial may see their duly qualified legal advisers without the presence of any other person. [Sec. 40 of Act IX 1894].

488. Interview and communication of civil and unconvicted prisoners.

- Unconvicted criminal and civil prisoners shall be granted facilities for writing two letters and two interviews each week with their relatives or friends. Provided that the State Government may in any particular case for reasons to be recorded in writing impose such restrictions on the interviews as it may deem necessary. Provided further that all reasonable facilities shall be granted at proper time and under proper restrictions for interviewing or otherwise communicating either orally or in writing with their legal advisers.

489. Interviews of unconvicted prisoners with legal advisers.

- Every interview between an unconvicted prisoner and his legal adviser Shall take place within sight, but out of hearing of a jail official. A similar concession may be allowed by the Superintendent in the case of an interview with any near relative of the unconvicted prisoner. Note. - The term "friend or relative" as applied to a prospective interviewer of prisoners and as occurring in paragraphs 468 to 488 supra is to be literally and strictly interpreted, that is to say, no one should be allowed an interview with a prisoner who is not entitled under the rules to interview, unless he can submit proof of a personal and intimate acquaintance or of near relationship. In the case of a relative the nature of relationship should be ascertained.

490. Application from legal advisors for interview of unconvicted prisoners.

- When any person desires an interview with an unconvicted criminal prisoner in the capacity of the prisoner's legal adviser he shall apply in writing, giving his name and address and stating to what branch of the legal profession he belongs and he must satisfy the Superintendent that he is the bona fide legal adviser of the prisoner with whom he seeks an interview and that he has legitimate business with him.

491. Confidential letters of unconvicted prisoners.

- Any bona fide confidential written communication prepared by an unconvicted criminal prisoner as instructions to his legal adviser may be delivered personally to such legal adviser without being previously examined by the Superintendent. For the purpose of this rule the term legal adviser means a legal practitioner within the meaning of Central Act XVIII of 1879.

492. Time of interview of civil prisoners.

- Civil prisoners may see their friends and relations at such times and under such restrictions as the Superintendent may appoint and the presence of the jail officer shall not be necessary.

493. Conditions under which a religious preacher may be admitted.

- On the application of a group of prisoners, a well known religious preacher as requested by them may be admitted to jail for religious ministration only, on any of the religious festivals provided that:(a)the Superintendent may, in his discretion, refuse to admit any minister whose admission to the jail he considers, for any sufficient reason, to be inconsistent with the maintenance of discipline therein;(b)no such religious preacher shall be permitted to have access to any prisoner of a different religious persuasion to himself, unless at the voluntarily expressed desire of such prisoner, and(c)the religious ministration shall be subject to such conditions as to time, place, duration and the like, as the Superintendent may at any time deem fit to prescribe.

494. Visit of a religious preacher to a sick or condemned prisoner.

(1)A religious preacher may be allowed to visit a prisoner on any day, if such prisoner is dangerously ill or is under sentence of death and desires to see such preacher, but not otherwise.(2)On such desire being expressed, the Superintendent shall, if possible, arrange for a religious preacher to visit the prisoner.

616. Procedure when a form of labour not specified is carried on.

- When any form of labour not specified in the foregoing table and not carried on as a regular jail industry is performed by any prisoner, or the form of labour is specified but a definite task is not given, the Superintendent shall, in consultation with the Medical Officer, fix the tasks when this admits of being done. Note. - The task fixed in any case should not be less than three-fourths of the task which can be performed by a free labourer.

617. Time to be given to acquire skill.

- Every convict on being first put to do any kind of work with which he is not acquainted, shall be allowed a reasonable time (to be fixed by the Superintendent), in which to acquire the necessary skill to enable him to perform the full task. Mental and physical capabilities must be taken into consideration. The time will vary from a few days in the case of grinding or oil-pressing which require but little skill, to three or four months in the case of weaving or carpet-making which require a good deal of skill and a fair amount of intelligence. In every case when allotting new work, the Superintendent, or subject to his control, the Deputy Superintendent, Factory or Deputy Superintendent shall note on the convict's history-ticket the task he is to begin with and every subsequent increase up to the full task.

618. Frequent change of work to be avoided.

- Frequent change of work, except on medical grounds, should be avoided, but the same form of hard labour should not be exacted indefinitely without variation, and sedentary work should occasionally be changed for work involving more general movement. Every Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent should make himself acquainted with the tasks fixed for the various industries carried on in his jail. Note. - Specially severe forms of labour such as oil pressing, blanket felting, jagai and the like should not be exacted continuously from any convict for more than a fortnight at a time, a reasonable interval being allowed to elapse before the convict is again placed on the same labour or labour equally severe.

619. Task to be measured or weighed.

- Whenever the material given to a prisoner to work upon, admits of measurement or weightment, it shall be measured or weighed out to him before he begins to work.

620. Work done to be measured and entered daily.

- Before the prisoners leave their places of work in the afternoon, the Factory Manager or Deputy Superintendent and Head-warders shall measure and mark off the work done by each prisoner and note the same against his name in the labour register. The entries in this register may be made in the vernacular and, in large jail, by an educated convict. If in any case, owing to the nature of the work the task cannot be taken daily it should be taken whenever it is possible to do so.

621. Means and appliances for labour to be provided.

(1) In every jail proper means and appliances shall be provided for exacting hard labour, medium labour and light labour, respectively from convicts who are liable and fit to undergo such labour. (2) In every jail proper means and appliances shall be provided for the voluntary employment of convicts sentenced to undergo simple imprisonment, as provided in section 36 of the Prisons Act, 1894.

622. Hardest suitable form of labour to be exacted. Profit not to be considered.

(1) Every convict sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment shall ordinarily be employed on hard labour of such kind as is most suitable and for which he is for the time being fit, and no such convict shall be put on medium labour so long as he is fit to perform hard labour, or on light labour so long as he is fit to perform either hard or medium labour. Provided that no convict of the casual class shall ordinarily be required to perform a full task of hard labour during the first month after his admission to jail, and that every convict of the habitual class shall, throughout the period of imprisonment to which he is sentenced, be required to perform the severest form of hard labour which he is, with due regard to health, capable of performing. (2) No consideration of profit or convenience shall be permitted to influence the class or form of labour which any convict sentenced to undergo rigorous imprisonment is at any time required to perform, and the class and form of labour which every such convict is at any time required to perform shall be fixed with reference solely to the health of the convict and the regulations of the jail in regard the employment of prisoners.

(1) When the requirements of the jail and other departments have been met to the fullest extent it is possible to meet them, prison labour may be employed in the manufacture of such articles as will be least likely to compete with any local industry for sale to the public at current market rates. (2) Traders, wholesale and retail, should be dealt with in preference to consumers amongst the public. Note 1. - When market rates do not exist or cannot be ascertained the price of jail-made articles must be calculated and must always include : (a) the price of the raw materials; (b) the wages of jail labour, rated according to the wages of free labour of the same class in the neighbourhood and with due regard to its inferiority; (c) a percentage for wear and tear of plant; and (d) a percentage on account of profits. Note 2. - In the case of articles supplied to Government or to the public the percentage on account of profits may ordinarily be fixed at 10 per cent on the cost of the raw material and labour, if the price thus found are below the ordinary rates at which the goods could be procured by the same class of purchasers in the open market they must be raised to at least such market rates. 625. Supply of articles to Government departments.

- Government has directed the various departments under its control to obtain such articles as they require from jails, provided these are supplied of the same quality and at the same price as in the open market; this should be borne in mind when selecting jail industries. Only in the event of its being impossible to meet the requirements of Government in any department shall an industry which competes with free labour be worked in any jail. They should be freed from stalks, decayed and illbrous portions and cut up ready for the pot before being weighted out. Arrangements must be made for an ample and continuous supply of vegetables during the hot and rainy months, more especially those kinds which are of antiscorbutic value such as onions. must be kept clean and bright, and the cook-house clean and tidy.

839. Protection from the weather during meals.

- Prisoners should be protected from rain and intense heat during meals. If there are no roofs over the ordinary feeding places they may be allowed to sit in verandas, or, if necessary, in the work-sheds or wards or wherever shelter can be found. The Purchase and Storage of Grain

- The Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent shall be held responsible that proper arrangements are made in due time for the purchase and storage of grain, subject to the limits of (with the stock in hand), 15 months' supply and of the storage room available.

841. The purchase of grain.

- The stock of grains should be bought either by tender in writing called for by public advertisement or by public auction of which full notice has been given in the bazars. Before holding an auction or opening the tenders the Superintendent should ascertain by local enquiries, by reference to official price lists or other means, what the ruling prices are. Samples to fix quality are of course essential. In the event of combination among the merchants, it is always open to the Superintendent to postpone his purchase and to take steps to break up the combine by bringing in tenderers from other markets.

842. Examination of grain. Prompt payment to be made.

- The Medical Officer shall examine every delivery of grain brought to the jail and satisfy himself that it is of good quality before it is stored. There should be no delay between delivery and weighing, and payment should be made at once after approval by the Superintendent, otherwise it cannot be expected that the most favourable terms will be obtained.

843. The storage and subsequent care of grain.

- Grain should not be finally stored until it is thoroughly dry, if it is damp it should be spread out and turned over frequently in the sun for a few days but must not be left uncovered at night. All grain should be protected from birds, vermin and insects and secured under lock and key. It should be separated from the walls and floor of the store or pit by at least one foot of bhusa, examined at intervals to see that it is not being damaged. If it shows signs of damage or decay, it should be all turned out exposed to the sun, cleaned and restored, with fresh dry bhusa, if necessary. Immediately any loss is discovered, full report of the circumstances should be made to the Inspector-General.

844. Utilisation of prison labour. Comparison of output with raw material issued.

- As far as practicable, all articles of diet required for feeding prisoners should be raised on jail land and prepared by jail labour. When articles are purchased, they shall be in the crudest condition, so that prison labour may be utilised in their preparation and economy exercised. The amount of every kind of food-stuff issued for preparation should be frequently compared with the return of prepared material received therefrom and both the Superintendent and Deputy Superintendent should satisfy themselves that no waste or unauthorised loss is permitted. This applies more particularly in the output of flour and oil, which should be commensurate with the grains issued.

845. All articles to be passed as fit for food.

- All articles of diet must be passed by the Superintendent and Medical Officer as fit for food, before being taken inside the jail for storage or consumption. Note. - Instructions for storing grain in underground pits and the remedies to be employed to ensure its preservation, are given in Appendix No. III. The Dairy 846. Details to be attended to in conducting a dairy.

- As a measure of economy and a preventive of disease, every jail should, when possible, have a dairy. To secure the successful and profitable working of the dairy of the following instructions should be attended to : -(1)The cattle sheds must be sufficiently commodious, well ventilated but protected from draughts, and the floor should be paved with brick or stone and lightly sloped to a masonry drain which empties itself into a receptacle outside. There should be a separate compartment for weaned calves.(2)The cattle may be allowed out to graze, but cows actually in milk should be stall-fed and confined to the cow-house enclosure.(3)The best breed of cows obtainable should be selected and the improvement of the breed kept in view. If a good bull is not in stock, the services of the best procurable in the neighbourhoods should be obtained. Every cow should be numbered.(4)A sufficient number of cows should be always in milk. Those which are permanently barren, male calves and female calves in excess of the number required to keep the dairy going, should be sold. If it is found cheaper to sell all the female calves and purchase full grown cows, this should be done.(5)Bran, dal husks, oil-cake, food left uneaten by prisoners, grass and other produce from the jail land, should be given to the cattle. If these do not suffice, such other food as is necessary should be purchased.(6)The Deputy Superintendent shall be allowed to keep two cows with their two calves or a horse in lieu of one of the cows. No other subordinate shall be permitted to keep private cattle in the jail premises. Private cattle shall on no account be kept with the jail cattle, nor shall any of the food belonging to the jail be allowed for them.(7)The milk of the jail cows and every article manufactured from it, shall be used in the jail and by prisoners only. The produce of the jail dairy shall firstly be devoted to the needs of the sick and the prisoners in the convalescent gang, after these have been supplied, and balance remaining shall be issued as milk or dahi to ordinary prisoners in lieu of a nutritive equivalent of dal.(8)The manufacture of butter or ghee is prohibited. Milk shall be boiled before use under the supervision of the Medical Subordinate, who shall be held responsible for its proper disposal.(9)All vessels used for holding and boiling milk should be washed in boiling water immediately after use. Tin vessels are best, but for boiling milk a tinned copper vessel is preferable and for setting dahi glazed earthen vessels may be used. A properly secured and well ventilated place should be provided in which to store milk from the time it has been drawn, until it is about to be issued.(10)The manure from the dairy should be used for improving the jail garden. When there is a sufficient supply of manure from other sources, the cow dung should be dried and utilized as fuel either in its natural state or made into cakes.(11)A statement (Form No. 85) giving details of the working of the dairy, shall be submitted on or before the 20th January, each year, to the Inspector-General.(12)The following scale of diet is fixed for jail cattle :-

| Sr. No | Description of cattle | Bhusa | | Oil-cake | Salt | Green grass & weeds |

(a)Green fodder when available should replace Bhusa at the rate of 3 to 1 but not more than 3/4 of Bhusa should be so replaced.(b)It would be desirable if a larger variety of food-stuff could be obtained.(c)During summer months barely and during winter cotton seeds may be issued to cattle in milk, but within the scale of gram and oil-cake allowed above.(d)Cheapness and palatability are the chief considerations when compounding a mixed ration.(e)Green grass and weeds must be available in the garden in good quantity.(f)Bran collected in the grain godown should be issued to cattle daily or sold if in excess of requirements and not allowed to accumulate.(g)1.860 kgs. of gram and 930 gms of oil-cake, should be issued to a working bullock from the 26th March to the 25th October and 2.325 Kgs of gram and 465 gms of oil-cake for the remaining period of the year.(h)Green fodder, grass and bran are not to be purchased in the market.(i)Buffalo giving milk in excess of 9.300 kgs shall get 930 grams extra. A certificate signed by the Superintendent should be attached to the detailed contingent bill in which the extra charge is made.A stud bull requires double the above scale.A Hansi bullock should receive 930 gm of gram in addition to the above scale.All these articles are readily obtainable at all seasons with perhaps the occasional exception of green grass though sufficient grass can almost at all times be obtained from the jail garden water-courses or plots of grass of the jail land. Every endeavour should be made to raise all articles of fodder on the jail premises, as to avoid the need of purchases as far as possible. Lots of green food is the main article to rely on. Jail bullocks should get three meals a day viz., at day-break, 1 p.m. and at sunset. No animal should be worked immediately before, nor for two hours after a meal. Further, they should get clean water to drink, be groomed daily and not exposed unnecessarily to the midday sun in hot weather, or to heavy rain or intense cold. In very cold weather a 'jhool' should be provided for each animal at night, and their houses should at all times be kept clean and well ventilated.

Chapter XXXIII

The Jail Garden

847. Cultivation of the garden. Responsibility of Deputy Superintendent.

(1)The Deputy Superintendent is responsible that the jail garden contains at all seasons a sufficient quantity of good wholesome vegetables, condiments and antiscorbutics (so far as it is possible to raise them), for jail use and that the whole of the jail land outside the jail walls, available for cultivation, is cultivated to the best advantage. A garden of sufficient size to supply all the vegetables and condiments required, should be laid out and another plot set apart as a lime orchard; any land available after the garden and orchard have been provided for, should be utilized for raising crops suitable for prisoners' food and fodder for jail cattle.(2)No warder or other subordinate officer should be permitted to go into the garden unless he has a duty to perform there.

848. The planting of mango and tamarind trees. Disposal of wood.

(1)In addition to the lime orchard the mango tree should be largely cultivated along the margins of roads, the boundaries of jail land and other available places where it will be least likely to interfere with the crops. Tamarind and bael trees will also be found useful. These trees give agreeable shade if planted within the jail enclosure, but they must not be allowed to near the enclosure walls nor planted so thickly or so near buildings as to interfere with free ventilation.(2)No tree on jail lands should be cut down or otherwise removed without the sanction of the Inspector-General. The wood obtained should, if the tree was grown -(a)in the jail garden - be utilized for jail purposes or sold and the proceeds credited to the jail, or(b)in any other part of the jail land - be made over to the Public Works Department or sold and the sale-proceeds credit to Government under head "XXX-Civil Works."

849. The saving of seeds and vegetables. Supply of good quality seeds.

(1)The Deputy Superintendent is responsible that a sufficiency of Indian and acclimatized seeds is saved each year for cultivation during the next year and shall have to pay for any seeds or seedlings it may be necessary to purchase. A supply of good quality vegetable seeds will be obtained each year by the Inspector-General and distributed to jails.(2)During the cold weather when good vegetables are plentiful and the supply greater than the expenditure, well-matured and selected vegetables should be sliced, thoroughly dried in the sun and stored in a dry place for use in the hot weather and rains, to supplement the daily output of the jail garden at that season. Immature vegetables or those that are fibrous, over-grown or running to seed, should not be stored.

850. The jail garden to be kept clean and tidy. Disposal of refuse.

- The jail garden should be kept clean, tidy and free from weeds and undergrowth. Each and every part of it should in turn be allowed to lie fallow for trenching purposes, one moderate sized plot at a time being sufficient. The system of allowing the manure to be removed from the trenches after the lapse of some months, to be used as top-dressing in other parts of the garden, should not be permitted. All weeds and other animal and vegetables refuse and urine should be consigned to the manure pit and the whole covered in with a few inches of dry earth when the pit is full. In this way a sufficiency of manure can always be obtained for top dressing.

851. Reaping and storage. Crop to be turned to the best account.

- The Deputy Superintendent is responsible that crops, grown on jail land, are reaped at the proper time; that no unnecessary delay occurs between reaping and storage; that proper precautions are taken against percolation or loss by vermin; that the by-products are properly disposed of for Government purposes only and that all such articles are duly accounted for in the jail accounts. The produce of the jail land must, as far as possible, be utilized either as food for prisoners or fodder for the jail cattle. An annual statement showing the value of vegetables and other products of the jail land used to supplement supplies purchased for the maintenance department of the jails, shall be submitted to the Inspector-General.

852. Percentage of prisoners employed in the Garden.

- The number of prisoners employed in the garden for the production of vegetables, condiments, and antiscorbutics (exclusive of those employed on raising water) should not on an average exceed 3 per cent of the prisoners confined in the jail. In 4th Class District Jails, the proportion may be increased to 5 per cent. If a greater number of prisoners is employed, the Deputy Superintendent shall be required to realize at least Rs. 3 per prisoner per month by the sale of vegetables over and above what are needed for the wants for the jail or make a corresponding reduction in the cost of maintenance by raising food-stuffs. An experienced gardener should, when a gardener is not specially sanctioned, be entertained as a warder.

853. Free vegetable supply to officials.

- When the requirements of the prisoners in the matter of vegetables and condiments have been fully met, any surplus left over after providing for a stock of dry vegetables for hot weather use, may be issued to the Factory Manager (when land is not allowed him for a private garden) up to 2 Kgs. and to the Deputy Superintendent, Senior Assistant Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, Medical Subordinate and clerical and accounts staff including store-keeper to the extent of their household requirements up to a maximum of 1-1/2 kg. each. Warders may be allowed up to a maximum of 1/2 kg. each. Those who require more, shall have to purchase them when available at current market rates. The free allowance of vegetables for each officer shall be set out daily for inspection by the Superintendent on his arrival at the jail. If after the prisoners and establishment have been supplied, a surplus is left, it should be sold, the sale-proceeds paid into the treasury and the sum deducted from the cost of jail maintenance in the annual accounts. It must be distinctly understood that the free ration to the establishment does not include condiments, antiscorbutics or foodgrains of any kind. Note 1. - For instructions on the management of the jail garden, see Appendix No. XI. Note 2. - If vegetables have to be purchased for a jail their issue to the staff shall cease.

- In every prison a hospital or proper place for the reception of sick prisoners shall be provided. [Section 39 of Act IX of 1894]

935. Prisoners complaining of illness to be examined.

- Every prisoner complaining of illness shall be brought before, and be examined by the Medical Officer who is to determine whether he shall be placed under observation, treated as an out-patient or admitted to hospital.

936. A prisoner may be detained under observation.

- No prisoner may be detained in hospital more than 24 hours under medical observation, without being brought on the hospital register. If it is necessary to detain him for a long period, he must be admitted to hospital.

937. Articles to be supplied to patient.

- Each patient shall be supplied with an iron cot, a pillow, two bed sheets, a mattress, a cotton coat and dosuti trousers, a woollen coat in winter time and as many blankets as the Medical Officer deems necessary.

938. Maintenance of bed head tickets and temperature charts.

- Over every occupied bed in hospital shall be recorded full particulars of the history of the patient and the progress and treatment of the disease. In a case of dysentery, it should be noted whether the prisoner suffered from the infection in his own home or had acquired it in the jail and in every case of fever a record of the temperature (Form No. 70) shall be kept. Suitable clasp frames for holding these tickets should be provided.

939. Cleanliness of clothing and bedding.

- The Medical Officer shall take measures to ensure the cleanliness of clothing and bedding. For this purpose a proper place for washing and boiling soiled clothes should be provided in every jail. Blankets, blanket-coats and bed-sheets should be frequently boiled; those in use in hospital should be treated separately.

940. Sick prisoners to bathe daily.

- Prisoners in hospital who are not too ill, shall bathe daily at such time as the Medical Officer may direct.

941. The feeding of sick-prisoners.

- Sick prisoners admitted to hospital shall receive diet as prescribed by the Medical Officer. When necessary, a special kitchen may be provided in the hospital enclosure, a cook appointed and suitable vessels provided for preparation of food for prisoners admitted to hospital.

942. Sick prisoners may be given light work.

- As a certain amount of physical exertion is an important factor in the maintenance and improvement of health in many cases and helps to keep the mind occupied, prisoners who are not too ill should be provided with some light work without any definite task being exacted, such as spinning thread or like.

943. Intimation of serious illness to relatives.

- Intimation of the serious illness of every prisoner shall be given to the District Magistrate of the District to which he belongs, for the purpose of having the information conveyed to his relatives and intimation of the serious illness of prisoners undergoing trial shall also be given to the courts concerned, specially in Sessions cases. Note. - Indents for medicines and medical stores shall be prepared as per instructions of Director, Health Services, Punjab as in the case of Civil Hospital/dispensaries. Infectious Disease and Cholera Epidemics

944. Treatment of infectious disease. Disposal of body in such case.

- Prisoners suffering from any infectious disease shall be treated in a separate ward, hut or tent, preferably in a remote part of the Jail grounds. After the death or recovery of a patient, his clothing, bedding etc. shall be thoroughly disinfected or destroyed and the room in which the case occurred, or was treated, shall be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected by means appropriate to the case. The Medical Officer shall give written directions for separating those who are suffering, or suspected to be suffering, from such infectious diseases for cleansing, the ward or cell, and for cleansing or destroying any clothing or bedding. Before removal for burial the body of any prisoner who dies of cholera, small-pox, AIDS, viral hepatitis or other communicable disease shall be wrapped in a sheet saturated with one part of corrosive sublimate in 1,000 parts of water or some other strong disinfectant. Such corpses should be disposed of with the least possible delay and surrounded with an ample supply of quicklime.

945. Calf lymph to be used for vaccination.

- For purposes of vaccination, lymph supplied from the Punjab Vaccine Institute only shall be used.

946. Report to be made when cholera occurs.

- When a case of cholera occurs in a Jail it shall be reported by telegram to the Inspector-General and the Director of Public Health, and by letter to the Superintendents of neighbouring Jails, the Director of Public Health, Punjab, and the nearest Civil and Military authorities, to the District or Municipal Medical Officer of Health in whose jurisdiction the jail is located. If other cases follow, a daily report of the progress of the disease and of the measures taken to meet it shall be sent to the Inspector-General and the Director of Public Health, Punjab, in Form No. 114. The report shall continue to be submitted daily for 15 days after occurrence of the last case.

947. Segregation of cholera cases.

- All cases of cholera and gastroenteritis or suspected cholera should at once be removed for treatment to a separate ward inside the jail. All the contacts should at once be vaccinated of anti-cholera vaccine, and arrangements should be made as soon as possible to vaccinate the rest of the jail population.

948. Treatment of prisoners occupying an infected barrack.

- All prisoners shall be removed from the barrack or building in which a case of cholera occurs and other accommodation provided for them elsewhere with as little delay as possible; they shall be kept under observation in a separate building and enclosure both by day and night, so as to prevent their mingling with the other prisoners. If there is no suitable accommodation inside the jail, huts or tents for their better segregation should be erected outside the main wall, but within the Jail area.

949. Disinfection of wards and latrine.

- After the room, hut or tent, in which a case of cholera has occurred has been vacated, the floor and walls in the vicinity of the spot, occupied by the person attacked shall be disinfected with strong disinfectant; similar disinfection of the latrine used by the patient and any spot on which he may have vomitted or passed excreta shall be carried out. Earthen vessel used by the patient shall be burned and destroyed. Iron utensils shall be fired.

950. Strict isolation of cholera patients to be in force.

- A special ward, hut, or tent, shall be erected for patients suffering from cholera and a couple of huts or tents, adjacent thereto for warders, sweepers and attendants. A prisoner seized with cholera shall be taken to the place erected for his reception and not to the hospital, and be attended by men from the affected barrack (those with shortest unexpired terms being selected) who should be encouraged by the offer of rewards to do their duty well. The Medical Subordinate and the Deputy Superintendent shall obey these instructions without awaiting orders from superior authority. All warders, sweepers and attendants on duty with a cholera patient shall at once be inoculated with a full dose of anti-cholera vaccine and shall not be allowed to mix with other prisoners until seven days have elapsed since the death or recovery of the last cholera patient and until their clothing and personal effects have been suitably disinfected.

951. Treatment of dejecta and precautions to prevent the spread of disease.

- The dejecta should be received in vessels containing some strong disinfectant and with all hospital refuse be immediately burnt. A vomit or stool pan used by a cholera patient shall on no account be used by anyone else. The disinfection of the persons along clothing of attendants on cholera patients should be strictly enforced and they should not be allowed to eat food and drink water which have remained in the vicinity of cholera patients or their dejecta. Any part of an iron cot soiled by vomit or excreta should be thoroughly scrubbed with a strong disinfectant, clothing, bedding, blankets, and straw soiled by any cholera patient should be burnt. Earthen floors soiled by patients should be dug up and renewed after disinfection - vide paragraph 949.

952. Procedure on death or recovery.

- On the recovery or death of a cholera patient, his bedding and clothing shall be immediately burned.

953. Precaution when epidemic disease is prevalent.

- In the event of the outbreak of epidemic disease in the vicinity of the Jail, care shall, as far as possible, be taken to prevent communication of the disease to any inmate of the Jail, either by new admission or by any of the Jail staff, newly admitted prisoners (whether undertrial or convicted) shall be kept in quarantine. If the disease is preventable by inoculation (e.g., cholera, plague, etc.), they shall also be inoculated.

954. Procedure when gastric disturbance prevails.

- If gastric disturbances are prevalent in the Jail or if the Medical Officer, in view of the prevalence of cholera in the neighbourhood, deems it advisable, all Jail officials and prisoners shall be inoculated and be encouraged to drink water. After the first appearance of cholera in a Jail the prisoners shall be paraded once a day and questioned in regard to the state of their bowels. Any one found to be suffering from diarrhoea or any other form of sickness shall be detained and a report sent to the Deputy Superintendent and to the Medical Officer.

955. Food supplies and vessels to receive attention.

- Food should be constantly inspected to ensure that it is of good quality, cleanly prepared and well cooked. The issue of uncooked food and raw vegetables and fruits should be temporarily suspended. All food-stuffs not required immediately and more especially milk should be boiled and stored in a cool place in vessels scaled with boiling water and protected from flies. The cook house should be kept under close supervision by the Medical Officer and all refuse should be removed and burnt in an incinerator. The drains from the cook house should be cleaned daily and disinfected. The cooks should be once inoculated against cholera and their state of health inquired into daily and if any cook is found to be suffering from diarrhoea or is attacked by cholera, all the cooks should be changed.

956. Arrangement to be complete.

- The hospital should be lime-washed and special care taken that all arrangements to meet an outbreak of epidemic disease are complete. The special equipment required for the treatment of cholera should be kept at the hospital for use in emergencies. This includes the apparatus required for the intra-venous administration of fluids.

957. Inoculation against cholera.

- When a case of cholera has occurred, or infection by the disease is threatened, prophylactic inoculation should be carried out on the widest scale possible. In the event of cholera appearing in the jail a telegraphic demand for sufficient vaccine to inoculate the whole of the Jail population with two doses (1.5 C.C. per head) should be made on the Civil Surgeon of the District.

958. Record and report of Cholera.

- The Medical Officer shall keep a special record of cases of cholera and at the close of an outbreak, write a report on the origin and progress of the disease with the measures taken to combat it and any points of interests that came under his observation. Copies of the record and report in triplicate shall, if the disease has been epidemic, be forwarded at once to the Inspector-General, one for his own use and the other two for transmission to the Director of Health Services with the Government of India, respectively. If the disease has been limited to a sporadic case or two, copies of the record and report shall be submitted in triplicate at the close of the year in which the disease occurred.

959. Period of precautionary measures.

- All precautionary measures shall be continued until fourteen days have elapsed since the death or recovery of the last case of cholera. The daily report (vide paragraph 946) should be continued during this period, on the expiry of which the Inspector-General of Prisons, and the Director of Health Services should be notified that the Jail is declared free.

960. Investigation as to the origin of the first case.

- In any epidemic it is of the greatest importance to ascertain all the circumstances connected with the appearance of the first case, and a very careful investigation should be made at once in order to discover, if possible, how it originated. Such enquiries, if delayed, are usually unsatisfactory.

961. Symptoms of cholera.

- All cases exhibiting vomiting and rice-water stools should be regarded as cholera and treated as such but it is well to remember that at the commencement of cholera epidemics diarrhoea may be the only evidence of a mild attack of cholera, whilst death sometimes occurs (Cholera sicca) before either vomiting or diarrhoea has had time to occur. Bacterial diagnosis should, whenever possible, be carried out.

962. The terms 'sporadic' and 'epidemic'.

- The terms "sporadic" and "epidemic" should not be used in connection with reports of cases. There are no means of distinguishing between them and the exact significance of individual outbreaks can be known only when all the facts have been ascertained and considered as a whole.

963. Discharge of patients, precautions not to be relaxed.

- No case of cholera should be discharged from hospital until every symptom, either directly or indirectly, due to the disease, has disappeared. When a case has not occurred for several days, an opinion is apt to prevail that the disease is at an end, it is important that this should not lead to any relaxation of the precautions necessary to prevent a further outbreak.

964. Measure against plague.

- To prevent the occurrence of plague the systematic destruction of rats, more specially in grain godown and food stores, should be carried out throughout the year. In the event of dead rats being found in any building, the latter should be vacated at once and a dead rat despatched to the nearest Medical Officer of Health for examination and report. The measures, in respect of the isolation and treatment of the patient, the evacuation of infected barracks and the disinfection of clothing are similar to those detailed in the case of small-pox, but on the appearance of plague in a jail, the staff and prisoners should be inoculated with anti-plague vaccine, a supply of which can be obtained from the District Medical Officer of Health.

965. Measures against louse-borne disease, relapsing fever and typhus.

- In the case of louse-borne diseases, relapsing fever and typhus, the detection of the first case should be followed measures similar to those detailed in the case of plague so far as the isolation and treatment of the patient is concerned. In the case of relapsing fever the patient should be treated by the intravenous administration of an arsenical preparation such as neo-sal-varian. The clothing and personal effects of the patient and contacts should be disinfected in a steam pressure disinfectant and the contacts should be kept under observation for a week. In the event of the occurrence of any further cases the "delousing" of the Jail population should be carried out, and repeated once a week until the disease is brought under control.

966. Weekly return of infectious disease.

- The Medical Officer of the Jail will prepare, in duplicate, each week for submission to the Inspector-General of Prisons, and to the Director of Public Health a weekly return of infectious diseases in form 27 (D.P.H.) which is supplied on application by the Director of Public Health.

967. Officers of health to be consulted on outbreak of an infectious disease.

- The Director of Public Health, being the official adviser in all matters of public health, he or the Assistant Director of Public Health or the nearest District or Municipal Medical Officer of Health should be consulted at once when any infectious disease or obscure sickness becomes prevalent or threatens to become prevalent in the Jail.

Chapter XXXVII

Public Works

968. Classification of works and repairs.

(1) Public Works in jails are classified as follows :-

- A. Original Works. Major Works costing over Rs. 1,00,000.
Minor Works, costing over Rs. 5,000
but not exceeding Rs. 1,00,000.
Petty works, costing Rs. 5,000 or under.
- B. Repairs
Special
Periodical or annual.

(2)"Original works" include all new constructions whether entirely new or merely additions and alterations to existing buildings, all repairs to newly purchased or previously abandoned buildings required to bring them into use, and substitutions of one kind of work for another, e.g., a tiled for a thatched roof.(3)"Special repairs" include the complete renewal of a roof or floor and repairs rendered necessary by storm, fire, flood or other unforeseen accident. Special repair estimates unlike other repair estimates do not lapse with the official year, but remain current till the completion of the work, in the same way as estimates for original works.(4)"Periodical or annual repairs" comprise not only such work as painting and whitewashing but such miscellaneous repairs as it may be convenient to carry out at the same time.

969. Proposals for an original major work.

(1)Every proposal for a major work should be accompanied by -(a)an explanation of the requirement;(b)a brief statement of the general nature and extent of the work proposed, and(c)rough approximate estimate of the probable cost, and a rough pencil sketch showing the chief dimensions of the work.(2)The proposal should be submitted by the Inspector-General to the State Government in the Civil Department for the order of Government.(3)The Executive Engineer may be called upon to report on any proposal for an original major work and to state roughly the probable cost as required by clause (1) but that officer should not be asked to prepare detailed drawings and estimates, this can only be done under the orders of the State Government in the Public Works Department.

970. Details when a minor work is proposed.

- When a minor work is proposed, the procedure for the preparation of estimates will be the same as that for a major work. Superintendents of Jails may ask officers of the Public Works Department for rough estimates of the cost of every work they consider necessary and when these are received, submit them to the Inspector-General for an allotment of funds. In the event of the Inspector-General being prepared to make an allotment, he will communicate the fact to the Superintending Engineer who will then order the preparation of the detailed estimate.Note. - The Inspector-General is empowered to sanction expenditure upto Rs. 15,000 on all minor works, other than residential buildings, appertaining to Central and District Jails, and miscellaneous buildings of the Jail Department under the minor head "27 minor works-2056-jails-101-jails/public -01-Central/02-District Jail (non-plan)".

971. Details when a major work is proposed.

(1)Major work will ordinarily be proposed by the Superintendent who may call upon the Public Works Department for rough approximate estimates of the cost and on receipt, submit them to the Inspector-General who may then apply for the administrative approval of the State Government in the Civil Department. This approval being obtained, the Inspector-General will include the work in his list of budget proposals and the Superintending Engineer or the State Government in the Public Works Department on receipt of administrative approval will issue orders for the preparation of the detailed plans and estimate.(2)The detailed plans and estimate will be sent to the Superintendent for counter-signature and afterwards returned to the Executive Engineer who will transmit them through the Superintending Engineer to the Inspector-General, for the counter-signature and approval of these officers.(3)The detailed plans and estimate will finally be forwarded by the Inspector-General to the State Government in the Public Works Department through the Chief Engineer, for sanction and allotment of funds.

972. Procedure when repairs are required.

(1)Estimates for repairs will be prepared by the officer of the Public Works Department concerned, who will be responsible for their propriety.(2)Executive Engineers in charge of Divisions, in the Buildings and Roads Branch, are empowered to sanction expenditure on ordinary (annual, periodical and petty) repairs within the limits of the sanctioned stereotyped estimates and the budget allotment placed at their disposal by Superintending Engineers.(3)The necessary financial control by Superintending Engineers over the expenditure proposed to be incurred on annual repairs is to exercise at the time of preparing Part II of the budget.Note. - The responsibility for the efficient maintenance of work should be impressed upon Executive Engineers from the beginning and they should be allowed as free hand as possible subject to financial regularity.Note. - All expenditure on petty construction and repairs is charged to the Public Works Department Budget.

973. Matter concerning works generally.

(1)Nothing in chapter is to be construed into a permission to any officer to carry out in portion any system of works or alterations of which the cost in the aggregate would exceed what he is empowered to sanction.(2)No material alterations or additions to a building may be made without the approval of the Superintending Engineer nor may any building be dismantled or new building constructed without permission obtained from or through him as the case may be.(3)No work may be commenced till sanction to it has been accorded, an allotment of funds made, and orders for its commencement issued by competent authority. In emergent cases of danger or inconvenience suddenly arising, a definite written request must be made to the Executive Engineer who will act on his own responsibility.

974. Convict labour. Details to be observed in the execution of works.

(1)In the execution of every jail work convict labour shall be utilized to the fullest extent. An Executive Engineer required to give a Superintendent the option of executing the whole or any part of a jail work and to assist him in providing employment for prisoners on such work, but as it will not be always possible for a Superintendent to carry out jail works, such works may be classed as those to be done by -(a)convict labour,(b)free labour, and(c)convict and free labour combined.(2)It is laid down in the Public Works Code that estimates for the works on which it is intended to use prison labour will as in the case of free labours, provide for the full market value of the work to be done, but a note of the reduction to be effected by the employment of convicts will be made on the abstract of the estimate.(3)No charges should be made to the Public Works Department when convicts are employed on jail works. When prison labour is employed on other public works the full market value of the work performed, as certified by the Executive Engineer, will be charged to the Public Works Department. The adjustment of such charge should be made according to the general rules for payments by one Department to another.(4)The Executive Engineer will from time to time inform the Superintendent of the probate demand for convict labour, the Superintendent shall arrange as far as practicable for the required number of convicts being made available and apply, if necessary, to the Inspector-General for the transfer of as many more convicts, as will make up the required number.(5)When a sanctioned jail work is to be executed by prison labour, the Superintendent will apply to the Executive Engineer for all tools, plant and materials required for the work. Such tools and materials shall be devoted solely to the purposes sanctioned in the estimate.(6)The work to be done shall be laid out by the Executive Engineer, or by his subordinate deputed for the purpose, and no deviation from the sanctioned plan shall be permitted without formal sanction.(7)It is the duty of the Executive Engineer to point out to the Superintendent when progress on a work on which convict labour is employed is considered unsatisfactory, to assist the Superintendent in framing a table of task-work, and to instruct his subordinate to report daily those convicts who have not completed their tasks or who have been otherwise negligent at their work.(8)All building operations are to be conducted by the Executive Engineer and his subordinate in charge, without interference. The supervision of Public Works Department must however be effectual so that loss to the jail by dismantlement of work, waste of materials or loss of tools may be reduced to a minimum.Note. - The Governor is pleased to direct that all ordinary repairs to jail buildings and all special repairs and original works, the estimated cost of which does not exceed Rs. 500 and which do not require professional skill, be carried out by Superintendent of Jails. For works costing over Rs. 500 their execution or otherwise by Superintendent is to be decided, each on its own merits, at time of sanction, by Superintending Engineers in consultation with Superintendents. Works and repairs to be undertaken by the Jails Department will be subject to the following procedure : -(a)Estimates for the class of works noted above are to be prepared by the officers of the Public Works Department as usual, and, when it has been decided that the Jail Department should carry out the work, the estimate abstract shall be cut down to show saving effected by the use of uncharged for Jail Labour.(b)In cases where the Superintendent of the Jail has no mistri or skilled workman at his disposal to put in charge of such works, the Executive Engineer of the Public Works Division concerned should either lend him one from his own staff, if he has one available or should see that the estimates provides for the payment of one charged to work. If in any particular case, the Superintendent of the Jail professes his inability to carry out work which the Executive Engineer has not objected to as unsuitable to Jail Labour, the Executive Engineer would, of course, carry it out for him, the matter is one that should be arranged between the Superintendent and the Executive Engineer. But it should be borne in mind that whenever by supplying help in the way of subordinate staff the Executive Engineer can aid the Superintendent to carry out work, it will be preferable to do so rather than to undertake it himself.(c)The Executive Engineer of each Public Works Division should, as far as possible, inspect, or direct one of his subordinates to inspect works made over to Superintendent of Jails for execution, while they are in progress, when they are of such a nature that some degree of professional supervision would be desirable. Superintending Engineers will also during tour examine them, as has been heretofore customary.(d)In carrying out jail works the Superintendent of the Jail will act as Agent of the Public Works Department and as such it will be his duty to see that money provided for one work is not diverted to another, and that no deviation from drawing or specifications is allowed.

(1)The disposal of complaints of officers of the Public Works Department regarding the work rests with the Superintendent. It is the duty of the Executive Engineer to see that his arrangements for materials, etc., are such that full employment is found for the number of prisoners for whom he applies.(2)The discipline, feeding, clothing, treatment, guarding and supervision of convicts employed on a work rests with the Superintendent.(3)No scaffolding, loose bamboos, planks, tools, etc., likely to facilitate escape, shall be left in the jail at night. Over extensive scaffolding or building materials that are a source of danger but which cannot be removed each evening, a special watch shall be placed by the Superintendent.(4)Outside labourers whenever employed shall be kept as much apart as practicable from convicts. When skilled outside labourers are engaged to teach convicts and supervise their work, it must be arranged that discipline is interfered with as little as possible.

976. Inspection of Jail buildings and the armouries attached to them.

- (i) The Divisional Officer of the Public Works Department in charge of a jail will submit annually to the Superintending Engineer, for information, certificate of inspection in the form appended below. The Divisional Officer will also send a copy of the certificate to the Superintendent of the Jail for disposal. Such report will be forwarded to the Inspector-General.(ii)On receipt of the certificate the Superintendent of the Jail will ask the Divisional Officer for estimates for such work as he considers necessary to remedy the unsatisfactory features noticed. If for financial or other reasons the Jail Department do not consider it advisable to take action on any of the matters brought out in the certificate, the Superintendent will inform the Divisional Officer accordingly so that those particular points may not be repeated in succeeding certificates.(iii)The Superintending Engineer will forward to the Chief Engineer, for information, only such certificates of inspection as exhibit unsatisfactory features of an important nature.

977. Signing of completion certificate.

- On the completion of a work, a completion certificate will be forwarded by the Executive Engineer to the Superintendent for signature. The signature merely implies that the Superintendent has satisfied himself to the best of his ability that the work has been done properly. If he objects to the way the work has been performed or to any statement on the certificate or other paper presented to him for signature, he should still sign it, adding any remarks he may think proper. Remarks which are unnecessary or irrelevant should be avoided. Note. - A copy of the completion certificate with the remarks if any, made by the Superintendent shall be sent to the Inspector-General.

978. Disposal of made materials.

- Materials derived from jail buildings dismantled or undergoing repair and surplus materials remaining over from a new work, when these have been supplied by the Executive Engineer are at the disposal of that officer.

979. Responsibility of Superintendents to guard against fire.

- Superintendents are responsible that:(a)no fires, except in constructed fire places, are allowed in any building or quarters during the day or night;(b)no fire is carried about unguarded, nor light without lanterns or protecting shades;(c)a sufficiency of water is constantly kept in the tanks or vessels provided for the purpose and that such water is changed frequently;(d)the ladders and other appliances provided for cases of fire are at all times in serviceable condition and available for immediate use; and(e)that no stacks or collections of grass, straw, or other inflammable materials, thatched huts, mat enclosures, or temporary cooking places enclosed or roofed with thatch or mats, are allowed within 50 yards of any jail building without special orders, and that such collection or building of inflammable materials is not subject to any risk of fire.

980. Grant for annual repairs.

- A grant of funds for annual repairs is made to all Superintendents to enable them to make payments on behalf of Government on account of repairs to jail buildings. This grant should be accounted for in jail registers in the same way as other expenditure on account of maintenance of prisoners, etc.

The entries in the receipt side should correspond with those in registers Nos. 35 and 35-A.(3)Full particulars of the purpose for which any material is issued should be shown in the appropriate column, for example white washing of plastering bark No. (1), 3,000 square feet, building a wall 32 cubic feet, soap nut and oil for 50 prisoners, etc.No. 53. - Receipts side -(a)All cash receipts will be entered in column 5; if it is a receipt from a debtor on account of sale previously made to him the amount will be extended into column 6; but if it is of a general nature it will be extended into column 7. Sufficient details should be entered in column 3 to make reference to the vouchers unnecessary. Cash sales after being entered in column 5 will be extended into column 7. The words "cash sales" in column 3 will suffice, for since the person or persons have made a prompt payment, their names are of no value. Daily cash sales should be analysed in the last cash memo, for the day according to the different departments to which they relate. These amounts will be posted in this book separately, folio references given therefor posting to the different sales accounts in the general ledger. The accounts of those Government departments which will not make payments in cash will have to be adjusted in the treasury column of this book after receipt of accepted invoices from the parties concerned at the end of the month. Detailed postings into ledgers will be made of all items appearing in columns 6 and 7. The two ledgers affected are the sold and the General ledgers, each entry appearing in column 6 will be posted to the credit of each individual account concerned in the sold ledger, and in the same way each entry in column 7 will be posted to the impersonal account. It relates to in the General ledger, the folio of the ledger to which the posting has been made being noted in column 4. When money is deposited into the Treasury, entries will be made for the amount so deposited in columns 13 and 8, that is obvious for it simply means that the jail has paid the money and the Treasury for purposes of each disbursements, the amount will be entered in columns 5 and 86 and disbursements out of this amount will be booked as explained below.

(b) Payments - Disbursements of cash should be entered in column 13 and extended into column 14 or 15, in the former column if it is in settlement of a debit due by the jail on account of purchases, and in the latter if it is of a general nature, e.g. wages, salaries, travelling allowance, etc. In the case of payments to Government department entry will be made in the Treasury column of this book at the end of each month showing the adjustments with the parties concerned. The Accountant General should be requested to intimate the adjustment made by him for the past month at the beginning of every month. It will be realised that particulars of the entries in column 14 will be the names of persons or firms while those of column 1 will be descriptions of impersonal accounts. Payment by cheque will be entered in column 16 and extended upto 14 or 15, as the case may be, the cash columns not being affected in any way. Each entry in column 14 will be posted to the debit of the individual account concerned in the Bought Ledger, and each entry in column 15 to the debit of the impersonal account concerned in the General ledger. These postings should not be allowed to fall in arrears, and must be made at the close of the day in which they were incurred or received.

(c) Monthly postings - This Cash Book should be totalled and balanced monthly. Columns 5 and 13 only should be totalled and balanced daily. The total of column 5 should agree with the total column 13; if a balance shows up which could only rise by column 5 being greater in amount than column 13, it will represent the balance of sale proceeds in hand not yet deposited in Treasury as distinct from the amount of the imprest in hand. There will always be a difference between columns 8 and 16, which will represent, the excess or otherwise of the deposits into over the drawings from Treasury. These balances should be brought down and will form the commencing entry of the next month. The totals of columns 7 and 15 will be struck and ruled off, no balance being brought down. The total column 6 will be posted in lump to the credit of an account in the General ledger called the "Sold Ledger Control Account". The total of columns 14 being posted in lump to the debit the "Bought Ledger Control account" in the General Ledger. The idea of these Control Accounts is to enable an arithmetical control to be applied over the Bought sold, ledgers, the principle being "the total must equal the sum of details". The postings from the Cash-book are only a portion of whole the remaining postings being made from the day books and journals.

(b) Imprest Register - If the cashier of the manufacturing department of a jail is allowed an impress out of which to make petty payments he should maintain an Impress register and not confuse the postings in the cash book by including there in his petty cash disbursements. The form recommended is the Contingent register in use in all Government offices as, being multi-columned, it allows of a considerable classification of these payment. Recoupments of the imprest will be shown in the cash book if it is made by cash by an entry in column 13 extended to column 15 and described in the particulars column 11 as "Imprest" it will be posted in General ledger to the debit of the Imprest account, if the recoupment is made by drawing on the Treasury by means of a cheque the entries will appear in columns 16 and 15 of the Cash-book, the posting in the General ledger being similar to the procedure for cash recoupments. The Imprest register should be totalled and balanced monthly, the cash in hand being counted. The total of the various analysis columns should then be posted to the debit of their respective accounts in the General ledger, and the total expenditure columns being posted to the credit of the imprest account in the General ledger care being taken to see that the ending balance is not included in this posting. The receipts side of the Imprest register will not be posted, as this will have been done already through the Cash Book when the recoupment was made.

No. 54. - The Sold Ledger - (1) Lables gummed on the cover and the back of the ledger will indicate which of the three ledgers each i.e. Folio references should be noted. Accounts will be opened only for those customers who are allowed the benefit of credit transactions. and also for Government departments to whom supplies have been made. (2) The Bought Ledgers - This ledger will contain accounts only of those firms, etc., who have allowed the jail credit. Articles as received should be brought on the book without waiting for the prices invoices. The approximate price should be culled out from the previous supply. The difference, if any, should be adjusted on the receipt of the priced invoice. Purchases for which cash payments are made will be entered at the time in the Cash book and posted direct to the General ledger. (3) The General ledgers - It will contain account of an impersonal nature. It will also contain two control accounts, viz., Sold Ledger Control and the Bought Ledger Control accounts. The procedures regards the stores and finished stocks, control accounts is explained in the note and store accounting. The postings into these ledgers from the Cash book and Imprest register has been explained. The following accounts should be opened in the General ledger. This list is not exhaustive and the opening of further accounts may be necessary :- Government Capital account. Buildings Workshop. Office. Plant and Machinery. Furniture and Fixtures. Stock of finished goods control account. Stores control account (raw material) Sold ledger control accounts. Bought ledger control account Imprest account. Depreciation reserve for buildings. Depreciation reserve for plant and machinery. Depreciation reserve for furniture and fixture. Profit and loss account. Purchases. Sales Carriage in on purchases. Carriage out on sales. Works in progress account. Workshop wages account. Supervision of factor (Salaries of foreman, etc. engaged in supervising work in the workshop). Power. Repairs to machine. Repairs, miscellaneous. Sundry factory expenses. Salaries of establishment, office. Travelling allowances. Lighting. Stationery. Postage, Telegrams and Telephones. Miscellaneous expenses. Audit charges Leave and pensionary charges. Interest on capital. Loose tools. Maintenance Department of the Jail. Stock of raw materials. Stock of finished goods. (4) The balance of these ledgers should be done monthly and in case of the sold ledger, it is necessary because of the details necessary for posting the register of outstanding jail from 51. These three ledgers will be posted as already explained from the Cash book.

No. 55. - Sales Day book. - The sold ledger will be posted from the Sales Day Book. This day book will record, only sales on credit, and will be compiled from bills, the persons, or departments to whom the goods were sold being noted in column 3 and the gate keepers pass numbers being entered in column 4. The total of the bill in column 6 and the analysis agreeing with the total in column at the end of the each day every entry in column 6 will be posted to the debit of the individual accounts in the sold ledger. Sales should be analysed under different heads in each jail according to what is made or manufactured there e.g. furniture, textile products, iron mongery oil shop products etc. This register will be totalled monthly and the following postings made in the General ledger: -Total of column 6 to the Debit of Sold Ledger Control Account.Total of columns 7 to 13 to the credit of their respective accounts.No. 56. - Purchase Day Book. - The Bought Ledger will be posted from the Purchase Day Book. Only credit purchases will be entered in this book and a distinction made between those purchases of manufacturing materials and those of a capital nature, this being effected by segregating them in the analyses columns. Each item in column 5 will be posted to the credit of account concerned in the Bought ledger, at the end of each month this day book will be totalled and the General ledger posting made as follows :-Total of column 5 to the Credit of the Budgeted Ledger Control Accounts.Total of column 6 of the Debit of Purchase Accounts.In addition each item in column will be posted to the debit of its respective account in the General ledger. A few pages at the end of this book shall be reserved to record purchases returned to suppliers. The posting into Bought General ledgers being the exact opposite of those suggested above.No. 57. - Journal. - The postings in the General ledger will thus have been all made except for certain adjustments viz., the settlement of accounts with other Government departments, certain closing and opening entries, and any other transactions which have not be entered in any of the day books or Cash book. To collect this information a journal will have to be maintained, the individual entries being posted to their respective accounts in the proper ledgers, the pages of which should be noted in column 4. This book should be totalled monthly and the totals of columns 7 to 10 only should be posted into the General ledger as followsTotal of column 7 to the Debit of the Bought Ledger Control Accounts.Total of column 8 to the Credit of the Bought Ledger Control Account.Total of column 9 to the Debit of the Sold Ledger Control Account.Total of column 10 to the Credit of the Sold Ledger Control Account.No. 58. - Block Register. - In order to enable us to ascertain the amount of Government capital laid out on the manufacturing side of each jail it will be necessary to prepare a list of the assets, valuations being made by responsible officers. The assets involved are -(a)Buildings, (b) Plant and Machinery(c)Furniture and Fixtures, and (d) Stocks of raw materials and finished goods.The last mentioned is separately booked and does not concern here, whereas assets (a), (d) and (c) do. As regards (a) a lump valuation will not suffice, each main building in the Workshop area should be enumerated and valued. In the same way each machine should be segregated. Furniture, however, need not be shown item by item. It will suffice if the classes of articles be enumerated separately, viz., 40 chairs, 20 tables, etc. These three assets should be collected in a Block register.This Block register should be in three distinct sections in order to segregate the three classes of assets which are compiled in it. The form of ruling is self-explanatory, the register itself is only a memorandum book.It is essential that assets of class (b) and (c) be collected under locations, i.e. the machines in the furniture making department will appear together so that it will be possible to strike a total of the value of machines in the furniture shop and what is more in postant ascertain the depreciation to be charged to that shop.No 59. - Purchase Order Book -(1)These purchase orders should be compiled in this book, columns 1 to 6 being written up at the time, and columns 7 to 11 being entered up from information when the goods and the invoice have been received. This order book should be placed before the Superintendent once a month, and he will observe whether orders have been strictly compiled with as to quantity, quality and date of delivery, and from this information decide whether or not to continue dealings with firms, and remark recorded in column 11. The system of calling for tenders and selection by the Superintendent should be continued. The account office should particularly watch invoices, and see that the quantity billed for agrees with the quantity delivered.(2)Stock limits. - The limits of stocks to be carried should be fixed, i.e. the minimum below which the stock of each kind of article should not fall and thus interrupt manufacture, and the maximum above which, for financial reasons, it would not be expedient to pass. Stocks would then be held at a safe level within these limits.(3)Purchase orders. - When stocks are reaching the minimum limit, the Store keeper should notify the accounts office, who will prepare Purchase Order on form P.J.F. 179 and put it up to the Superintendent of the Jail for signature. This book will be bound with alternative detachable pages. The order will be duplicated by means of carbon paper, the original being despatched to the supplier. It would be advisable that the Superintendent kept this book and only gave it to the Accountant as and when required. The Storekeeper should not be notified of the quantities ordered. He should, however, be informed that orders for replenishment have been placed.Nos. 60 and 60-A. - Register of Daily Receipts and Issues. - Separate registers shall be maintained for the daily receipts and the daily issues. These registers should be bound with alternative removable pages, duplicating being obtained on the detachable page by means of carbon paper. Each set of two pages, i.e. the fast and the removable, should be reserved for one day's entries. The store-keeper filling in columns 1 to 4 of Register No. 60, the quality check being made by a responsible officer who should initial column 5 in token of having passed the item, the Store Keeper should then post his Bin Card and note its number on column 6, at the end of each day the removable page should be detached and submitted to the accounts office where columns 7 to 10 will be entered up and the posting made to the proper folio in the Stores ledger. Register No. 60 should be kept up in the same manner.No. 61. - Stores Ledger (Accounts Office). -(1)The source of the entries is the same as far the Bin Cards, and is indicated on the form. The remarks column should show the results of stock verifications and the date on which they were made.(2)Stock-taking - Stocks should be verified at least twice a year, once by the travelling stock-takers and once by a responsible official deputed by the Superintendent. The former should make two half-yearly visits and check one-half of the stocks held at his first visit and the other half at this second. At the latter visit he should select a few of the items he has already checked at the first and recheck them. The official deputed by the Superintendent should carry out his verification piece-meal throughout the year, he should not notify the Storekeeper of the articles he intends checking at each visit. All articles must be checked by the end of the year. Here again the check of a class of articles two or even three times during the year has most salutary effect on the Storekeeper and the accounts clerk compiling the stores records. These stock-takers should initial both sets of stores records and make a note of any differences discovered, at the same time notifying the Superintendent direct of these differences. The accounts office also shall compile a list of these differences which should be forwarded to the Superintendent through the Deputy Superintendent in charge of the jail. After comparison the Superintendent should pass orders or, if necessary, obtain orders to the write off of such losses. The accounts office should periodically satisfy itself that the balances appearing in their store ledgers agree with those in the Bin Cards. At stock-taking the verifiers also will satisfy themselves on this point.(3)Bin Cards (P.J. Form 182). - Since most or all of the stores are stocked in bins or on racks it will be found far more convenient for the Storekeeper to use Bin Cards than Stores ledger. The stock of Bin Cards should be kept by the Accountant, who should be held responsible for their legitimate issue, which should be made only as each of the cards in use is completed and produced to the accounts office. The completed cards should not be destroyed but should be preserved for three years by the accounts office to whom they should be made over. Each card will have a hole punched at the top whereby it may be suspended from a nail over the bin or rack where the article it relates to is stocked. The Accountant shall keep a statistical register to know the number of cards he has received and the number he has issued and the balance in hand. This should be tested by the audit staff. Once the original issue is made all succeeding issues will be balanced by receipts back into the office of completed cards. In order that the storage place of articles of stock be recorded the rack spaces, or bins should be numbered and the number painted on, so that against where "stored" may be entered the name or description of the building and rack or bin. The final columns should contain the results of stock verifications which should be noted by the verifier on number. The rest of the card calls for no remarks. The line against the particular date on which the verification was made.(4)Manufactured goods transferred to Stock Rooms - When a job has been completed the Foreman of the department concerned, should make out a "manufactured goods to stock" note, the foreman completing columns 1 to 4. This book will be bound so that triplication can be obtained. The two loose copies shall be despatched with the goods to the Store-keeper who after check and entering in his Bin Card, or if Bin Cards are inconvenient his stock ledger, which should be ruled similarly to his Bin Cards, retain one copy and return the other to the Foreman after initialling. These duplicates should at the close of the day be sent to the accounts office where columns 6 to 9 will be filled, in the Stock ledger entered up and a note made on the cost sheet concerned.(5)Issues of manufactured goods from stock. - Issues of manufactured stocks shall not be made by the Store-keeper except on a properly authorised indent from the accounts office. This book shall be in triplicate the necessary copies being obtained by carbon paper. If the sale is for cash the word "Bearer" shall be entered above the columned space, if on credit the name and address of the customer shall be entered. After filling in columns 1 to 3, the two loose copies should be detached and sent to the Store-keeper, who after issuing or despatching the goods shall enter up his Stock ledger or Bin Card and initial one copy which he shall return to the accounts office where columns 4 and 5, and, if necessary, column 6 will be entered up and the necessary entries made in the Stock ledger, and the Bill prepared.(6)Summary of Stores Indents. - Since it is necessary to compile costs of manufacture. all issues of stores and raw materials must be summarised to jobs, this should be done daily by the accounts office from stores indents received from the various foremen of departments, the Indent column 2, from there the extension will be entered up according to the job number concerned as shown on the indent. The daily totals of columns 2 to 17 should be struck and a "monthly allocation of materials issued to jobs" compiled on another sheet of the same form, the date being entered in column 1 and the daily totals posted to columns 2 to 17. Where jails are large and manufacturing is heavy it may be necessary to use more than one sheet.(7)Stores Control accounts - The accounts office should compile a control account in the General ledger by someone other than the accounts clerk compiling the Stores ledger, this account should be posted daily. Posting should be made as follows : -(a)The value of the commencing balance of stores in hand should appear as a debit in this account.(b)the daily receipts should be debited, - vide the total of column 9 of the "Register of daily receipts".(c)The issues should be credited - vide the total of column 2 of the "Daily allocation of materials issued to jobs" sheet.(d)Adjustments also shall have to be debited or credited, e.g., the daily total of the value of surplus materials returned to store should be debited.(e)The value of deficiencies found at stock taking should be credited to this account.(f)The value of surpluses found at stock taking should be debited. This account for the sake of convenience should be balanced monthly, and compared with the schedule of balances extracted from the stores ledger. A Finished Stock control account on the lines of the Stores control account should also be maintained.(8)Indents on the Store-keeper. - The Store-keeper should make no issues unless they are requisitioned for on properly authorised indents. The Foreman in charge of each manufacturing department of the jail will carry one of these indent books with him. These books should be bound in sets of three pages bearing the same page number, the first page fast and the other two detachable. The books also should be numbered, and the book number should be printed over the page number thus 3/98. When materials are required for a department, the Foreman should make out the indent, obtaining triplication by means of carbon paper, and note clearly the department and job for which it is required. He should detach the two loose copies and submit them to the Store-keeper, who will make the necessary issue, obtain the drawer's thumb- impression in token of having received the articles, and should himself initial both copies and he should note in the remarks column the balance remaining in stock of that article after the issue was made; one copy he should retain, and the other he should hand over to the drawer. He should make the necessary posting into his Bin Card and file the Indent. The foreman will get back one copy of the indent with the material she has indented for, he should, at the end of each day, submit to the accounts office all these duplicate indents where they should be priced out and posted into the priced Stores ledger, and the balance as appearing in the remarks column of each indent agreed with the balance appearing in the Stores ledger. Thus the accounts clerk will apply a daily check on the Store-keeper's records.(9)Issue rates - The clerk in charge of Stores ledger in the accounts office shall, after each entry of a purchase i.e. a receipt into store, calculate a fresh issue rate on the balance in hand on the evening of the previous day, both as regards quantity and value, plus the new purchase quantity and value. The new rate which will be arrived at by dividing the sum of the values by the sum of the quantities will be noted at once against that day in the rate column on the issue side of the Stores ledger. These rates should be tested by the usual audit staff at their periodical audits.(10)Materials surplus to requirements - Materials drawn for a job which are found at the end to be surplus to the requirements of that job must not be used on any other job. They should be returned to stores on a Return to Stores Note. The procedure as to the preparation and submission of this form follows that suggested for indents on the Store-keeper. The book will be bound so as to supply triplication, two copies being sent to Store keeper, who, after checking the quantity, etc. and initialling both copies will return one to the Foreman. At the close of the day of Foreman will submit these duplicates to the accounts office. The rate and value columns will be filled in only in the accounts office, the rate being that ruling on the day the stores were returned.No. 62. - Register showing the names of prisoners working in and out of the jail -(1)Serial numbers commencing from 1 should be entered in the column of the day concerned against the name of each prisoner forming the gang deputed for work.
