205M.

(i)On appointment to the district, the Settlement Officer shall study the reports of the last settlement and the orders passed thereon by the higher authorities and the Government and examine the methods followed in the light of some of the solid classifications, maps and village notes of the last settlement. He should look at a few typical areas of the district and form a general idea as to the system of soil classification suitable in the present conditions.(ii)Before commencing regular village-wise inspections of the pargana or of a local area coming under settlement in any year, he should by a brief tour, come to a tentative conclusion as to the assessment circles referred to in Rule 205-R.

205N.

He shall before commencing village inspections-(a)issue a notice to be affixed at the village Panchayat Ghar or other conspicuous place, fine each village containing a list of relevant matters on which he intends to make enquiry;(b)cause a proclamation to be made in each village about the date of his inspection and such proclamation shall be made at least a week in advance;(c)issue a notice drawing attention to the provisions of Sections 261, 263 and 274 of the Act, stating that applications for abatement, enhancement, determination and fixation of land revenue under these sections may be presented to him at any time within one month, after the date on which assessment proposals are published under Section 265 Rule or 205-AA, or Rule 205-EE.

205O.

The Settlement Officer shall use his best endeavours to ensure that the matters relating to his enquiry are discussed with the Pradhan, the members of the Gaon Sabha and tenure-holders or their representatives in the village he is inspecting and that full opportunity is given to them to represent their views and to make applications on matters connected therewith.

205P.

The Settlement Officer shall explain to them the Principles on which he proposes to make the soil classifications in the village and shall take due note of their opinion. He shall take into account the physical difference in soil and of other characteristics such as situation, etc. which affect the productivity of the soil. Unless there are reasons to the contrary he shall divide soil classes into 'wet' and 'dry'. The land which is irrigated from earthen well of a seasonal or temporary nature and the land, which has not been irrigated in at least two out of five normal years ending with the year of record, shall not be classed, by him as "wet land".

205Q.

In considering the stability or precaneousness of the village or other local area, the Settlement Officer shall enquire into material changes, if any, in the extent of the cultivated area and note the causes thereof in his inspections notes.

205R.

The Settlement Officer shall, where necessary, divide each local area into assessment circles He shall form circles of villages possessing a general similarity of soil or physical character. Where there are well defined tracts, distinctive natural qualities the Settlement Officer shall ordinarily form these tracts into assessment circles, but in forming them he shall have due regard also to other characteristics, whether natural or artificial which are likely to affect the produce or revenue. When he departs from the arrangements adopted at the last settlement, he shall explain the departures in his assessment report.

205S. Analysis of produce generally.

- After inspecting the village, the Settlement Officer will work out the average produce of staple crop, on each type of soil and at the time of inspections shall enquire into such matters, as the history of general developments, effects of the various plans and community development schemes, use of improved seeds, fertilizers and facilities of irrigation. He shall enquire into the features of the system of crops rotation and prepare the table only with respect to the crops which are generally sown in a rotation of three years. The settlement shall be prepared separate for 'wet' and 'dry' land.

205T.

When he has completed the inspections and the enquiries in a circle or any convenient tract, the Settlement Officer shall consider the results of his enquiries for each circle as whole. He shall examine the value of the produce of each crop, by making local enquiries in as many villages as possible and in so doing he shall not base his observations on the market rate of the crop, but shall ascertain it from the cultivator and the rate shall be the rate at which the cultivator has sold the produce at the time of harvest. The Settlement Officer shall compare the rates of the produce of the past five years and tracing the course of prices, shall also enquire into the reasons which have caused a variation in the price of the produce. He shall enquire into the genuine rates, at which the cultivators have sold their produce, during the past five years and shall exclude speculative or high prices, obtained by drought or other natural calamities or low rates occasioned by bumper crop. He shall thereafter prepare a statement for each assessment circle, indicating therein the average rates of produce of each crop.

205U. Calculation of average surplus produce.

- When the figures of the average produce of crops and its average value spread over a period of five years have been determined, the Settlement Officer will proceed to prepare the figures of per acre average surplus produce obtainable from each type of soil. The statement shall contain the average produce from the land spread over a period of five years. The average produce in terms of the money for each year shall be based on the average produce and the market value of that produce in that year. The per acre produce of each type of soil, shall be based on the average of five years.

205V.

The Settlement Officer shall, thereafter, proceed to work out the average expenditure incurred in cultivation of each crop on each type of soil. He shall in so doing, work out the average annual expenditure in cultivation of each crop on each type of soil over a period of five years. In deducing the cost of agricultural operations, the Settlement Officer shall have due regard to the minimum wages prescribed for the region, under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, cost of seeds and fertilisers, cost of preparation of field for sowing, number of times the irrigation is normally done and the cost of each irrigation, the amount normally required for reaping, harvesting and threshing of grain, the cost of maintenance of bullocks and tractors required for the field. In so computing the cost of agricultural operations, the cost of the labour put in by the tenure-holder shall also be worked out in terms of money on the basis of the minimum wages prescribed under the Minimum Wages Act, 1948, for the region and added to the cost derived above.

205W.

From the above figures the Settlement Officer shall work out the per acre average surplus produce for each type of soil in terms of money. This statement shall be prepared separately for 'wet' and 'dry' land.

205X.

The Settlement Officer shall submit a schedule of the value of average surplus produce for each type of soil through the Commissioner to the Board of Revenue, accompanied by a map showing the villages of the area and their grouping in assessment circles and by a brief report not exceeding 15 printed pages (excluding appendices, if any)-(a)very briefly describing the tract, the soil classes and the assessment circles, explaining briefly any important changes from the last settlement and standing the area in each class of soil;(b)discussing the movement of agricultural prices and any substantial change in the nature and area under irrigation and of the various crops and estimating the changes in the amount of produce, and the value thereof since the last settlement;(c)in recommending what percentage of the average surplus produce shall be taken as land revenue, the Settlement Officer shall keep in view the provisions of Section 264(2) of the Act and submit his proposals for fixation of land revenue on a graduated scale, for holdings in the following manner-

Holding having average surplus produce in terms of money

Rs. 1,500 and below;

Exceeding Rs. 1,500 but below' Rs. 5,000;

Exceeding Rs. 5,000 but below Rs. 10,000;

Exceeding Rs 10,000 but below Rs. 20,000;

Exceeding Rs. 20,000 but below Rs. 30,000;

Rs. 30,000 and above.

(d)in suggesting the percentage of average surplus produce to be charged as land revenue, for each slab, mentioned in Clause (c) above, the Settlement Officer shall first work out the average surplus produce in terms of money for the entire assessment circle on the basis of the area under various soil classes and per acre average surplus produce for each type of soil. He shall then work out-(i)the percentage which the existing land revenue bears to the total average surplus produce of the whole assessment circle;(ii)the percentage which the land revenue bears to the total average surplus produce of the whole assessment circle, if the land revenue of the bhumidhars, who had required these rights under Clause (a) of Section 18 of the Act, was computed at hereditary rates and that of those bhumidhars who had acquired these rights by depositing ten/twenty times of land revenue at double their present revenue;(iii)increase in the irrigated area since the last settlement;(iv)the increase in the price of farm produce since the last settlement; and(v)the extent to which the fertilisers and high yielding varieties of seed have been used during the past five years in the assessment circle.After taking into consideration the above factors, the Settlement Officer shall decide as to what percentage of the total average surplus produce of the assessment circle could reasonably be assessed as land revenue. He shall thereafter proceed to work out the approximate number and area of holdings. Whose annual average produce comes within each of the slabs, mentioned in Clause (a) above and shall suggest a graduated percentage of average surplus produce to be charged as land revenue for the various slabs, in such a way that the total land revenue of all slabs more or less corresponds with revenue calculated for the assessment circle of the percentage initially decided. He shall take care that except for special reasons the proposed assessment does not fall below the percentage, which the existing land revenue as arrived at in item (ii) above bears to the total average surplus produce of the assessment circle.

205Y.

After calculating the total average surplus produce for the assessment circle, the Settlement Officer shall proceed to determine-(a)the per acre weighted average surplus produce for the circle on the basis of various soil classes and their area; and(b)modification of the aforementioned per acre weighted average surplus produce necessary for applying it to village inferiority or superiority keeping in view the physical facts of soil erosion, possibilities of extending irrigation and the caste and production efficiency of tenure-holders of the village concerned.

205Z.

While the settlement for the full term is preferable in the public interest to a settlement for a shorter term, when the fluctuations in the cultivation are slight or the deterioration is not serious, the Settlement Officer shall propose shorter term for individual villages which fall in precarious tracts. For temporarily deteriorated villages the Settlement Officer, if he so considers necessary, propose settlement at a reduced assessment for a period of ten years in order to enable the village to recover while fixing the full demand to be enforced later.

205AA. Publication of the schedules of average surplus produce.

- After such scrutiny as it may consider necessary the Board shall publish the schedule and the report for general information and objections. It shall only be necessary to publish the following papers in the official Gazette, with a notification stating therein where the copies of the full report would be available for inspection and also for sale to the public :(a)A list of villages comprised in each assessment circle indicating clearly villages of marked inferiority or superiority(b)The schedule of the average surplus produce for each type of soil, per acre weighted average surplus produce for the circle and its modification for villages of marked inferiority or superiority.(c)A statement giving a rough estimate of the revenue that may be assessed for the circle and each village.(d)A list of precarious villages where settlement is proposed for a shorter period.The Board shall cause copies of the schedule of average surplus produce, and copies of the report to be affixed or otherwise laid open for public inspection at the Collectorate, the Tahsil and the Settlement Office, where the Settlement Officer's full report explaining the proposed revenue and the map of the tract shall be exhibited. The Board shall cause printed copies of the full report to be made available for sale to the public both at the Settlement Office and the Government Press.One month shall be allowed from the date of publication for objections, which shall be filed before the Settlement Officer The Settlement Officer shall consider such objections and forward them with his comments through the Commissioner for the orders of the Board.

205BB.

The Board of Revenue shall submit to the Government the Settlement Officer's report with their own comment and the objections forwarded by the Commissioner for approval of the percentage of average surplus produce suggested for land revenue. The State Government shall put up its recommendations before the Uttar Pradesh Legislature which shall by a resolution decide what percentage of the average surplus produce shall be charged as land revenue.

205CC. Calculation of Land Revenue.

- After the Government approval of the percentage of average surplus produce to be charged as land revenue, but pending its confirmation by the State Legislature, the Settlement Officer shall work out in detail, the effects of the proposal on the land revenue of each bhumidhari and sirdari khata. If the State Legislature modifies these rates, he shall modify his calculations in accordance with the Government's directions.

205DD. Exemption of grove from assessment.

- When the land is covered by timber grove, such as of country mangoes the value of which mainly lies in their timber and not in their fruit or other produce and are situated in bhumidhari or sirdari khata, both the land and trees shall be excluded from assessment.

205EE.

When the Settlement Officer has completed the proposed assessment of any assessment circle, or of any tract for which it is convenient to submit a single assessment report, he shall publish the assessment report by posting notices in the Settlement Office, the Collectorate and the Tahsil headquarters and receive objections filed within one month from the date of such publication. He shall also send to each Pradhan of the Gaon Sabha a notice mentioning the dates on which these papers have been published and stating the place where they are open for inspection. On receiving objections, the Settlement Officer may modify the assessment report, if necessary

205FF. Submission of Assessment Report.

- After the expiry of the period of one month, mentioned in Rule 205-EE, the Settlement Officer shall submit to Government through the Commissioner and the Board for order-(a)the list of villages included in the assessment circle;(b)the percentage of average surplus produce which shall be charged as land revenue sanctioned by the State Legislature;(c)the village wise assessment statement, with the reasons for proposed assessment for each village;(d)an abstract statement to show the proposed revenue for each village separately distinguishing alluvial from non-alluvial villages; and(e)the assessment report of the Tahsil.

205GG. Assessment Report.

(1)The assessment report of the Tahsil shall not, without special sanction, exceed 40 printed pages, inclusive of prescribed statements but exclusive of any other statements or tables which the Settlement Officer deems necessary. Supplementary reports for small areas should be avoided.(2)The report should include a concise description of the tract and its rivers and drainage system, its topographical division, if any and of the communications, trade towns and markets.
