Industrial Disputes (Tamil Nadu Amendment) Act, 1963(Tamil Nadu Act 9 of 1963)Statement of Objects and Reasons - Industrial Disputes (Tamil Nadu Amendment) Act, 1963 (Tamil Nadu Act 9 of 1963). - Under section 2(n)(vi) of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (Central Act XIV of 1947), the appropriate Government can declare only those industries specified in the First Schedule to the Act as public utility services. The leather and the oxygen and acetylene industries have not been included in that Schedule. The Government have received representations requesting that the leather industry may be declared as a public utility service under the said Act. The process of leather tanning consist of various stages stretched over a period of thirty days and if the process at one stage were to be interrupted even for a few hours the skins and hides would get damaged, and consequently the threat of strikes with little or on notice to the managements should be eliminated. It has also been represented that the oxygen and acetylene industry is vital for the defence and economy of the country and that any sudden interruption in the production and distribution of their products will seriously dislocate important industries and institutions. It is therefore, considered that the First Schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, should be amended to include the leather and the oxygen and acetylene industries so as to enable the Government to declare the said industries as public utility services.2. The Bill seeks to achieve the above object.Please see Part IV-Section 3, page 62 of the Fort St. George Gazette Extraordinary, dated the 27th March 1963.Received the assent of the Governor on the 26th May 1963 and first published in the Fort St. George Gazette, dated the 29th May 1963.An Act further to amend the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947, in its application to the [State of Tamil Nadu] [Substituted for 'State of Madras' by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws Order, 1969, as amended by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws (Second Amendment) Order, 1969.].Be it enacted by the Legislature of the [State of Tamil Nadu] [Substituted for 'State of Madras' by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws Order, 1969, as amended by the Tamil Nadu Adaptation of Laws (Second Amendment) Order, 1969.] in the Fourteenth Year of the Republic of India as follows:-
