All directions given by the Medical Officer in relation to any prisoner, with the exception of orders for the supply of medicines or directions relating to such matters as are carried into effect by the Medical Officer himself or under his superintendence, shall be entered day by day into the prisoner's history-ticket or in such other records as the Government may, by rule direct, and the Jailer shall make an entry in its proper place stating in respect of each direction the fact of its having been or not having complied with, accompanied by such observations, as the Jailer thinks fit to make with the date & time of the entry.

Chapter IX

Visits to prisoners

37. Visits to civil and under-trial / convicted prisoners.

Due provision shall be made for the admission, at proper times and under proper restrictions, into every prison of persons with whom civil or un-convicted criminal / convicted prisoners may desire to communicate, care being taken that so far as may be consistent with the interests of justice, prisoners under trial may see their duly qualified legal advisers without the presence of any other person.

38. Search of visitor.

(1)The Jailer may demand the name and address of any visitor to a prisoner, and, when the Jailer has any ground for suspicion, may search any visitor, or cause to be searched, but the search shall not be made in the presence of any prisoner or of another visitor.(2)In case of any such visitor refusing to permit himself to be searched, the Jailer may deny admission; and the ground of such proceedings, with the particulars thereof, shall be entered in such record as the Government may direct.

Chapter X

Transfer of prisoners

39. Reasons and Circumstances for Transfer.

Prisoners may be transferred from one prison to another for the following reasons: -(i)for custody and treatment in a suitable institution in accordance with the classification procedure,(ii)for attendance in court for the purpose of standing trial or giving evidence,(iii)on medical grounds,(iv)on humanitarian grounds, in the interest of their rehabilitation,(v)for post-release vigilance by the police,(vi)for providing essential services,(vii)on grounds of security, expediency,(viii)to be nearer to his / her home district,(ix)for other special reasons.

40. Removal of prisoners from one State to another.

Where any person is confined in a prison in a State: -a. under sentence of death; orb. under or in lieu of a sentence of imprisonment or transportation; orc. in default of payment of fine; ord. in default of giving security for keeping the peace; ore. for maintaining good behavior;The Government of the State, with the consent of the Government of any other state, by order, provide for the removal of the prisoner from that prison to any prison in the other States under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XI

Emergencies

41. Situation to be handled on an emergency basis.

(1)The following situation shall be handled as emergencies namely: -(i)escape from prison;(ii)outbreak;(iii)riot;(iv)strike;(v)hunger strike (individual or mass);(vi)assault;(vii)suicide;(viii)fire;(ix)epidemic;(x)earthquake(xi)terrorist attack

42. Measures to prevent and control emergency situation.

It shall be the responsibility of the Superintendent or any officer present to take sufficient measures for preventing and controlling emergency situations. These measures shall include all such necessary and immediate actions as per the need of the situation under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XII

Education of prisoners

43. Importance of education for prisoners.

(1) Education is vital for the overall development of prisoners. Through education their outlook, habits and total perspective of life can be changed. Education of prisoners benefits the society as well as it leads to their rehabilitation and self-sufficiency. Education reduces the tendency to crime. This would mean less crime, fewer victims, fewer prisoners, more socially productive people, and less expenditure on criminal justice and law enforcement. (2) Life in prison is extremely monotonous, routinised and regimented. The education activities offer opportunity to a prisoner to remove from his mind depressing thoughts leading to relaxation and joy. Reality must be accepted that to confine offenders behind walls, without trying to change them through education and other activities, is an expensive folly.

44. Objectives behind educational programme.

The objectives behind educational programmes in prisons should be to channelise prisoners' energies into constructive and creative pursuits, instilling in them a sense of confidence, developing amongst them social responsibility and consciousness, fostering amongst them habits and attitudes necessary for adjusting in the community, creating amongst them an awareness of the futility of leading a criminal life and uplifting them morally, mentally and socially. A comprehensive educational programme shall be framed in accordance to the requirement as deemed necessary under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XIII

Vocational training and programmes

45. Vocational training and work programmes.

(1) Vocational training and work programmes should be treated as essential features of the correctional programmes for the purpose of: - (i) imparting discipline and work culture among inmates. (ii) developing right attitudes towards work and dignity of labour. (iii) promoting: - (a) physical and mental well-being of inmates, (b) proper development of mind through intelligent manual labour, (c) spirit of fellowship and a cooperative way of living, and (d) a sense of group adjustment. (iv) developing capacity for sustained hard work. (v) building habits of concentration, steadiness, regularity and exactness of work. (vi) imparting and improving work-skills. (vii) awakening the self-confidence and self-reliance of inmates. (viii) training and preparing inmates for achieving lasting social readjustment and rehabilitation. (ix) imparting an occupational status and thus creating a sense of economic security among inmates. (x) keeping inmates usefully employed in meaningful and productive work. (xi) preventing idleness, indiscipline and disorder amongst them. (xii) maintaining a good level of morale amongst them and thus promoting a sense of self-as well as institutional discipline among them.(2)For the purpose to achieve this objective a clear policy for the work programmes and vocational training of prisoners shall be framed under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XIV

Leave and special leave

46. Benefit of Leave.

Leave and special leave to inmates are progressive measures of correctional services. The release of a prisoner on leave not only saves him from the evils of incarceration but also enables him to maintain social relations with his family and community. It also helps him maintain and develop a sense of self-confidence. Continued contacts with family and community sustain in him a hope for life.

47. Objective.

The objectives of releasing a prisoner on leave are: -(i)to enable the inmate to maintain continuity with his family life and deal with family matters,(ii)to save him from the evil effects of continuous prison life,(iii)to enable him to maintain and develop his self-confidence(iv)to enable him to develop constructive hope and active interest in life.

48. Special Leave.

(1)Special leave may be granted to a prisoner in special situations such as: -(i)death or serious illness of father / mother / brother / sister / spouse / children.(ii)marriage of brother / sister / children.(2)The period spent on leave will be counted as sentence served, while that spent on special leave will not count as such. The period spent on special leave will be treated as 'out days' or sentence suspended for all purpose.(3)The manner and procedure, by which, leave or special leave are granted, the category of prisoners eligible for such leave or special leave and the stipulated conditions thereof shall be in a manner prescribed under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XV

Premature release

49. Advantages of good conduct.

The primary objective underling premature release is reformation of offenders and their rehabilitation and integration into the society, while at the same time ensuring the protection of society from criminal activities. These two aspects are closely interlinked. Incidental to the same is the conduct, behaviour and performance of prisoners while in prison. These have a bearing on their rehabilitative potential and the possibility of their being released by virtue of remission earned by them, or by an order granting them premature release. The most important consideration for pre-mature release of prisoners is that they have become harmless and useful member of a civilized society. For the purpose of recommending the pre-mature release of prisoner a Sentence Review Board should be constituted to advise the Government for release of prisoner and the procedure thereof in a prescribed manner under this Act or rule made thereunder.

Chapter XVI

Women prisoner

50. Prison administration for women offenders.

The prison administration shall keep the female offender in a strictly secluded female enclosure.

A list of all such articles shall be entered in the Admission Register and in the convict's warrant and read over to the convict in the presence of the Jailer who shall countersign the entries in the register and in the warrant. Method of storing the prisoner's money or valuables, shall be according to the general rules laid down in the Prison Manual.

60. Children of Women Prisoner.

(1)A child up to six years of age shall be admitted to prison with his mother if no other arrangements, for keeping him with relatives or otherwise, can be made. Children born in prison may remain with their mother upto six years of age, if they cannot otherwise be suitably placed. The Medical Officer shall determine the age of children not born in prison for the purpose of this provision.(2)No child shall be admitted into or retained in prison if he has attained the age of six years. The Superintendent shall inform the Directorate of Social Welfare about all children of that age for placing them in a home run by the Social Welfare Department.(3)Children kept under protective custody in a home of the Department of Social Welfare shall be allowed to meet their mother at least once a week.This apart, any guideline required on the subject shall be framed under this Act or rule made thereunder.
