Administration of EstatesBombay Regulation 8 of 1827[Dated 1st January, 1827]A Regulation to provide for the formal recognition of heirs, executors and administrators, and for the appointment of administrators and managers of property by the Courts.Preamble. - Whereas, at the same time that it is in general desirable that the heirs, executors or legal administrators of persons deceased should, unless their right is disputed, be allowed to assume the management or sue for the recovery for property belonging to the estate, without the interference of Courts of justice, it is yet in some cases necessary or convenient that such heirs, executors or administrators, in order to give confidence to persons in possession of, or indebted to, the estate to acknowledge and deal with them, should obtain a certificate of heirship, executorship, or administratorship, from the Zilla Court; And whereas, whenever there is no person on the spot entitled or willing to take charge of the property of a person deceased, or when the right of succession is disputed between two or more claimants, none of whom has taken possession or where the heirs are incompetent to the management of their affairs and have no near relations entitled and willing to take charge on their behalf, or where a person possessed of property dies intestate and without known heirs, it is essential that the Zilla Court should appoint an administrator for the management of the estate; the following rules are therefore enacted [* * *] [The words 'to take effect from such date as shall be prescribed in a Regulation to be hereafter passed for that purpose' were repealed by the Repealing Act, 1873 (12 of 1873).]

Chapter I

Rules for the Recognition of Heirs, Executors and Administrators When There is a Competent Claimant

1. Legal heir, etc., of person deceased competent to represent him without recognition from Court.

- Whenever a person dies leaving property, whether movable or immovable, the heir or executor, or legal administrator, may assume the management, or sue for the recovery, of the property, in conformity with the law or usage applicable to the disposal of the said property, without making any previous application to the Court to be formally recognized.

2. But if such recognition requested, proclamation will be issued.

- First. - But if an heir, executor or administrator is desirous of having his right formally recognized by the Court, for the purpose of rendering it more safe for persons in possession of, or indebted to, the estate to acknowledge and deal with him, the Judge, on application, shall issue a proclamation, in the form contained in Appendix A, inviting all persons who dispute the right of the applicant to appear in the Court within one month from the date of the proclamation and enter their objections, and declaring that, if no sufficient objection is offered, the Judge will proceed to receive proof of the right of the applicant, and, if satisfied, grant him a certificate of heirship, executorship or administratorship. Second. - [Publication of proclamation.] Rep. Act XII of 1873.

3. If no objection appears, recognition to be granted.

- If, at the expiration of the time mentioned in the proclamation, no sufficient objection has been made, the Court shall forthwith receive such proof as may be offered of the right of the person making the claim, and, if satisfied, shall grant a certificate in the form contained in Appendix B, declaring him the recognized heir, executor or administrator of the deceased.

4. Objection appearing, to be examined and recognition given or refused accordingly.

- First. - If, before the expiration of the time, any objection is made to the right of the person claiming as heir, executor or administrator, the Judge, on a day to be fixed (of which at least eight days' previous notice shall be given to the parties), shall summarily investigate the grounds of the objections on the one hand, and of the right claimed on the other, examining such witnesses or other evidence as may be adduced by the parties, and either grant or refuse a certificate, as the circumstances of the case may require. If question is complicated or difficult, matter to be left for adjudication. - Second. - But if from the evidence adduced, it appears that the question at issue between the parties is of a complicated or difficult nature, the Judge may suspend proceedings in the application for a certificate until the question has been tried by a regular suit instituted by one of the parties.

5. Authenticity of wills and recognitions how certified.

- Whenever an executor is formally recognised, under the rule contained in section 4, the authenticity of the will, if any, by which he is appointed, shall be proved, and the certificate of executorship shall be endorsed thereon.

6. [Wills and recognitions to be registered.] Rep. Act XII of 1873.

7. Recognised heirs, etc., competent to manage property.

- First. - An heir, executor or administrator, holding the proper certificate, may do all acts and grant all deeds competent to a legal heir, executor or administrator, and may sue and obtain judgement in any Court in that capacity. But recognition gives no title to property. - Second. - But, as the certificate confers no right to the property, but only indicates the person who, for the time being, is in the legal management thereof, the granting of such certificate shall not finally determine nor injure the rights of any person; and the certificate shall be annulled by the Zilla Court, upon proof that another person has a preferable right. Nor relief from responsibility to claimants. - Third. - An heir, executor or administrator, holding a certificate, shall be accountable for his acts done in that capacity to all persons having an interest in the property, in the same manner as if no certificate had been granted.

8. Refusal of a recognition no judgement against claim of applicant.

- The refusal of a certificate by the Judge shall not finally determine the rights of the person whose application is refused, but it shall still be competent to him to institute a suit for the purpose of establishing his claim.

Chapter II

Of the Appointment of an Administrator by the Zilla Court, when there is no heir or Executor competent and willing to be placed in possession

9. When heir, etc., is present but undetermined or incompetent Judge may appoint administrator to be duly accountable when emergency at end.

- Whenever there is no person on the spot entitled and willing to take charge of the property of a person deceased, where the right of succession is disputed between two or more claimants, none of whom has taken possession, or where the heirs are incompetent to the management of their affairs from infancy, insanity or other disqualification, and have no near relations entitled and willing to take charge on their behalf, the Judge, within whose jurisdiction such property is, may appoint an administrator for the management thereof, until the lawful heir, executor or administrator appears, or the right of succession is determined, or the disqualification of the heir is removed, as the case may be, when the Judge, on being satisfied of the facts, shall direct the administrator in charge to deliver over the property to such person, with a full account of all receipts and disbursements during the period of his administration.

10. [If heir, etc. unknown, administrator to be appointed, and proclamation issued, and published. [Section. 10 does not apply to intestate property which is dealt with by a Magistrate under the Bombay District Police Act, 1890 (Bombay 4 of 1890), Section 58(3).]

- First - Whenever any person dies intestate, and without known heirs, leaving property, the Judge, within whose jurisdiction the property is, shall appoint an administrator for the management thereof, and shall issue a proclamation in the form contained in Appendix C, calling upon the heir of the deceased or any person entitled to receive charge of the property, to attend and prefer his claim.]Second. - The proclamation shall be published, [* * ] [The words 'in the manner prescribed in Reg. IV, A. D. 1827, section VIII clause tenth', the words 'local currency' and the words 'Bombay Courier or other' were respectively repealed by the Repealing Act, 1873 (12 of 1873).] and if the deceased was a [resident] [This word was substituted for the word 'Native' by the Adaptation of Laws Order, 1950.] of any district or country without the limits of the Court's jurisdiction, and the property is of the value of rupees one thousand (1,000)[ * *] [The words 'in the manner prescribed in Reg. IV, A. 11. Administrators appointed by Court to give security and to be remunerated at discretion of Judge.

- Whenever an Administrator is appointed by the Judge under sections 9 and 10 of this Regulation, he shall, previously to entering upon the execution of his office, give security in a sum to be fixed by the Judge for the faithful discharge of his trust, and he shall be entitled to such remuneration as the Judge may fix for his trouble, but subject to modification by the Sadr Diwani Adalat, on the complaint of any person interested.Appendix AForm of Proclamation to be issued when a person applies to be recognised as heir, executor or administrator of one deceased.ProclamationIn the Court of the Zilla ofWhereas A.
